RAM TEMPLE 'DWAJAROHAN'

Centuries-old pain put to rest: Modi

The ceremonial hoisting of saffron 'Dharma Dhwaja' atop the Sri Ram Temple in Ayodhya marked its formal completion; PM Modi urges citizens to "awaken the Ram within" to realize India's 'super power' dream

AYODHYA (UTTAR PRADESH)

Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Tuesday said India and the world are immersed in Ram, as he described the installation of the Dharma Dhwaja atop the newly-constructed Ram Temple as a moment that heals "wounds of centuries" and marks the fulfilment of a civilisational resolve kept alive for 500 years.

Modi along with RSS Sarsanghchalak Mohan Bhagwat ceremonially hoisted the saffron flag (Dharma Dhwaja) on the Shikhar of the Ram Temple, which marked the ceremonial completion of its construction.

DHARMA DHWAJA

The right-angled triangular flag, measuring 10 feet in height and 20 feet in length, bears the image of a radiant Sun symbolising the brilliance and valour of Bhagwan Shri Ram, with an 'Om' inscribed on it along with the image of the Kovidara tree.

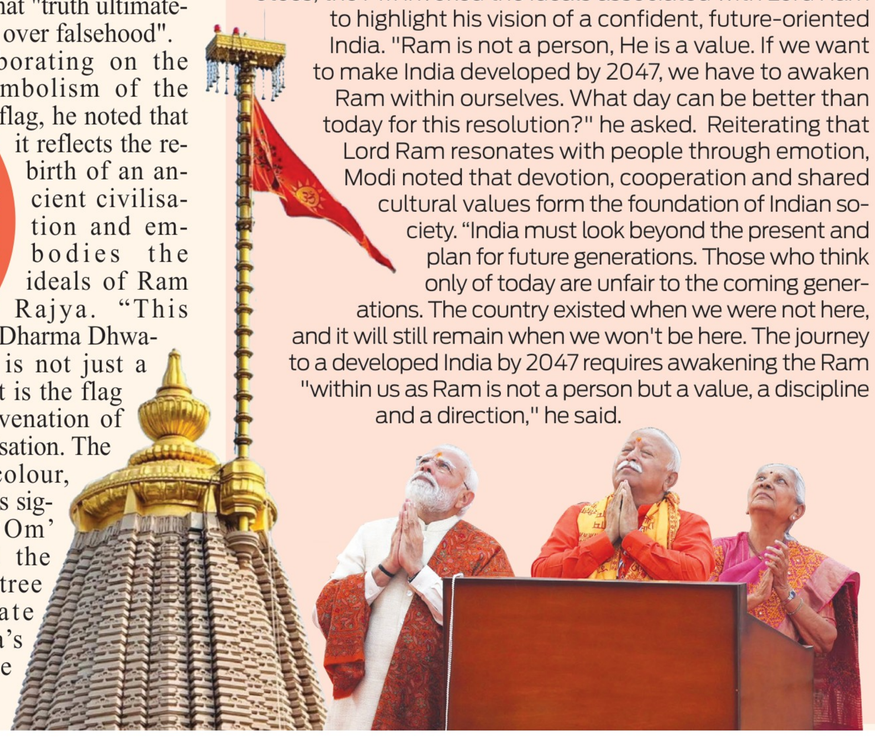
Addressing the gathering at the 'Dwajarohan' ceremony, the PM said, "The moment symbolised a cultural resurgence for the nation. There is extraordinary satisfaction in the heart of every Ram devotee. There is boundless gratitude. There is unfathomable supernatural bliss. The wounds of centuries are being healed. Centuries-old wounds are healing, centuries-long pain is finding closure, as the resolve that burned for 500 years finally reached its fulfilment."

"Today, the energy of Lord Ram is established at the 'shikhar' of the Grand Ram Temple in the form of this Dharma Dhwaja," he said. Terming the flag-hoisting "a unique and divine moment", the PM said the sacred flag atop the Ram temple would stand as a testimony to the fact that "truth ultimately triumphs over falsehood".

Elaborating on the symbolism of the flag, he noted that it reflects the rebirth of an ancient civilisation and embodies the ideals of Ram Rajya. "This Dharma Dhwaja is not just a flag. It is the flag of the rejuvenation of Indian civilisation. The Saffron colour, Suryavansh's signia, the 'Om' word, and the Kovidara tree impersonate Ram Rajya's glory" he added.

In Ayodhya, Modi outlines roadmap for Viksit Bharat @ 2047

India must draw strength from its civilisational roots and break free from the British-era legacy of slave mentality to become a super power' Ayodhya (Uttar Pradesh): Prime Minister Narendra Modi described the raising of the Dharma Dhwaja (flag) atop the Ram Janmabhoomi Temple as a "historic" moment, saying India must draw strength from its civilisational roots while shedding its "slave mentality" in order to become a super power by 2047. Addressing devotees, the PM invoked the ideals associated with Lord Ram to highlight his vision of a confident, future-oriented India. "Ram is not a person, He is a value. If we want to make India developed by 2047, we have to awaken Ram within ourselves. What day can be better than today for this resolution?" he asked. Reiterating that Lord Ram resonates with people through emotion, Modi noted that devotion, cooperation and shared cultural values form the foundation of Indian society. "India must look beyond the present and plan for future generations. Those who think only of today are unfair to the coming generations. The country existed when we were not here, and it will still remain when we won't be here. The journey to a developed India by 2047 requires awakening the Ram "within us as Ram is not a person but a value, a discipline and a direction," he said.



"The centenary of India's Independence in 2047 must mark the realisation of the goal of a 'Viksit Bharat'

—Narendra Modi, PM

PM Modi remembers the sacrifice of Guru Teg Bahadur Ji

KURUKSHETRA: Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Tuesday attended a special programme marking the 350th martyrdom anniversary of Sri Guru Tegh Bahadur, the ninth Sikh Guru, in Kurukshetra. Addressing the gathering, the PM paid tributes to Guru Tegh Bahadur, calling him the repository of truth, justice and faith. He also released special coin and commemorative stamp to mark the anniversary of Guru. "Standing on this very land of Kurukshetra, Lord Krishna declared the protection of truth and justice as the greatest religion... Guru Tegh Bahadur Ji also considered the protection of truth, justice, and faith as his religion, he added.

Human talent irreplaceable by AI, robots: Shukla

BENGALURU

The talent of humans to correct things without delay and think about 10 things at a time cannot be done by robots and AI, said Gaganyatri Group Captain Shubhanshu Shukla.

He was speaking at an 'Astronaut- Student Interaction Programme', organised by Bengaluru's Jawaharlal Nehru Planetarium along with the Karnataka Science and Technology Promotion Society at the planetarium here on Tuesday.

To a question on whether ISRO's cost-effective image will hamper future space missions, he said: "I do not think being cost- effective is at the cost of safety of astronauts and the space mission. We are being cost-effective in terms of global standards and that will not hinder the future of missions."

To a question on 'why do we need spacecrafts, why can we not use robotics and AI? he replied the challenge would be to see and preplan everything for robots.

AIMSS members hold stir against rise in crimes on women, children

MYSURU

The All India Mahila Sanskritik Sangathan (AIMSS) staged a powerful protest on Tuesday at the historic Dufferin Clock Tower (Chikka Gadiyara) in the heart of Mysuru city, voicing deep concern over the alarming rise in crimes against women and children across the nation.

Holding placards and shouting slogans for justice, dozens of women activists demanded strict laws, faster investigation, and an end to social apathy towards harassment and violence.

Their protest drew attention to the shocking statistics revealed by the National Crime Records Bureau (NCRB). According to the data, crimes against women stood at 4.45 lakh in 2022, while crimes against children reached 2.99 lakh between 2019 and 2024, highlighting what the protesters called a "national emergency of safety."

AIMSS leaders claimed that while governments boast of development and global achievements, India is failing miserably to protect its daughters. Protest speakers pointed out that incidents of sexual assault, trafficking, domestic violence, online harassment and cyber threats are rapidly increasing, even as law enforcement systems remain slow and insensitive.

Speaking to reporters, an AIMSS district representative said, If women and children are not safe, then no society can claim progress. Crime numbers are exploding, but justice is shrinking. Women's police stations must be strengthened, fast-track courts be made functional in every district, and self-defence education be made mandatory for girl students.

The demonstration also emphasised better counselling support for child abuse survivors and harsher punishments for repeat offenders.

At the conclusion of the protest, the activists submitted a memorandum to the district administration, urging immediate intervention and nationwide safety reforms. They vowed to continue their campaign until women and children "walk free without fear."

AITUC Protests before Ambedkar Statue against 'Anti-Labour' Laws

MYSURU

In a strong demonstration of dissent against the Union government's newly implemented labour codes, activists of the All India Trade Union Congress (AITUC) staged a massive protest at the foot of Dr. B.R. Ambedkar's statue here on Tuesday. The protest, held in front of the Deputy Commissioner's Office, witnessed hundreds of workers waving flags, raising slogans demanding the immediate withdrawal of what they termed as "anti-worker and pro-corporate labour laws."

The four new labour codes introduced by the Government of India — on wages, social security, industrial relations and occupational safety — have been called "the biggest blow to the working class since Independence" by the protesting leaders. According to AITUC leaders, these laws dilute job security, restrict workers' rights to strike, increase working hours, favour easy hire-and-fire policies and weaken social security protections.

Addressing the crowd, AITUC district president declared that Dr. B.R. Ambedkar, the architect of the Indian Constitution, championed justice and dignity for the working class. "Protesting here before Babasaheb's statue is symbolic," he said. "The government is betraying the very spirit of his ideals by bringing in laws that push labourers into insecurity."

Protesters shouted slogans demanding stronger social security measures, minimum wage guarantees across sectors, and protection from corporatisation. Handmade placards read, "Workers Build the Nation, Don't Sell Us Out!" and "Corporate Gifts Cannot Crush Our Rights!" Demonstrators also warned of intensified protests if the labour codes are not withdrawn.

Delegates later submitted a memorandum to the District Administration, urging immediate intervention from the Central Government. The protest concluded with a pledge to continue the struggle until "justice for labour" is restored.

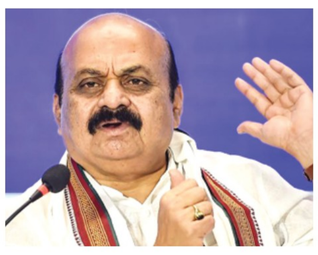
"Rights of Neighbours" campaign held in Hunsur

HUNSUR

Jamaat-e-Islami Hind, Hunsur, organised a public address today as part of the country-wide campaign titled "Rights of Neighbours – Ideal Neighbourhood, Ideal Society." The programme witnessed the participation of nearly one hundred men and women, and was held at the JIH Hunsur office in the evening. Abdul Khadar, District Organizer, JIH Mysuru conveyed the Opening Remarks. Akbar Ali Udupi, State Secretary, Jamaat-e-Islami Hind, Karnataka delivered the key-note addresss and highlighted the moral, social, and spiritual significance of fulfilling the rights of neighbours. Drawing upon Qur'anic teachings and Prophetic guidance, he emphasized that each one of us must be in cordial terms with their neighbours, care for their welfare, and live a friendly life. He also brought to the audience's attention of the present-age problems where society is disintegrated, and requested to build strong & cooperative relationship with their neighbours —irrespective of class, caste, religion and other sectarian barriers.

It's sad to see CM claiming to continue for 5 years: MP Bommai

MYSURU



Former Chief Minister and MP Basavaraj Bommai opined that Siddaramaiah should not have come to a situation where he must beat his chest and say, he will remain Chief Minister for five years and described the current scenario as a clash between Rebellion Siddaramaiah and Compromise Siddaramaiah.

He told reporters here on Monday that if he is the earlier rebellious Siddaramaiah, he will not give up power under any circumstances. But if he is a compromising Siddaramaiah, he will yield. They will know this month to what extent Siddaramaiah has retained his firmness. The Siddaramaiah they have known has always been rebellious. His politics has always been tough and uncompromising. Now they will know whether that core nature has changed because of his desire to continue in power.

Asked about 40 per cent commission charges against the previous BJP government headed by him, Bommai said the commission allegations against the BJP government were false, and the investigation report has proved it. Now everyone knows how much commission is taking place in every department under their government. The day Siddaramaiah came to power, the Congress house developed cracks. Now those cracks have only widened.

On Congress infighting, the former CM said in the country, Congress is their political opponent, and BJP has always opposed their ideology. They wanted a Congress-Mukth Bharat in the nation. As for the current situation in the state Congress, they will take decisions at an appropriate time depending on how things unfold.

77th Birthday of Dharmadhikari Dr Veerendra Heggade celebrated

On the occasion of the 77th birthday of Paramapujya Dr. Veerendra Heggade, the Dharmadhikari of Sri Kshetra Dharmasthala, members of the KMPK Trust and the Dr. Veerendra Heggade Fans Association celebrated the day meaningfully by planting different varieties of saplings at Tagadur Ramachandrarav Park in Chamundipuram Circle in Mysuru.

Speaking on the occasion, KMPK Charitable Trust President Vikram Iyengar said for more than fifty years, Dr Heggade has served as the Dharmadhikari of Sri Kshetra Dharmasthala. He has earned immense popularity through his devotion, religious service, and social service. He has brought great glory and honor to Dharmasthala. It would not be an exaggeration to say that there is hardly a Kannadiga who has not visited Dharmasthala's Lord Manjunatha. For countless devotees, Lord Manjunatha represents deep faith and devotion. Likewise, Dharmadhikari Veerendra Heggade commands the same respect and stands at the forefront of community service. His outstanding contributions to healthcare, education, and culture are truly commendable," he said.

On this occasion, KMPK Trust President Vikram Iyengar, Ajay Shastri, Akhila Bharatiya Grahaka Panchayat Mysuru President C. S. Chandrashekhar, S. N. Rajesh, S. B. Vasudeva Murthy, Dharmendra, Anand, Pramod Achar, Shuchindra, Ramachandru, Jatti Prasad, Apoorva Suresh, Ravishankar, and several others were present.

Provide info on stray dogs

MYSURU

As per the order of the Supreme Court, heads of educational institutions (government & private), hospitals (government & private), sports complexes, bus stations, and railway stations falling within local urban body limits must inspect their premises for stray dogs. If any are found residing in the premises, their number must be recorded and reported immediately to the Chief Officer/ Commissioner. Institutions must take steps to prevent stray dog nuisance, restrict their presence, cooperate with the local body in relocating the dogs, and appoint a responsible staff member as the Nodal Officer to monitor control measures and restrict their entry. As per the Supreme Court order, penalties will be levied if stray dogs are allowed to reside again in the premises.

"Flirt" to Release Across Karnataka on Nov 28

MYSURU

The much-awaited film Flirt, the directorial debut of actor Chandan Kumar—who has impressed audiences on both the small screen and the big screen—is set for a statewide release on November 28. Besides directing the film, Chandan Kumar also plays the lead role. Produced under the banner Everest Pictures, the film is jointly produced by Chandan Kumar and Kavitha Chandan Kumar.

With the tagline "A Pure Love Story," the film stars Nimika Ratnakar and Akshata Bopayya in the lead female roles.

The friendship song "Nee Nanna Jeeva," sung by Kiccha Sudeep, has already gone viral everywhere and is receiving massive viewership. Though Flirt is a romantic comedy, it incorporates elements of friendship, love, and wholesome entertainment. The film showcases that flirt does not merely imply teasing; deep love too can be called flirt. Everyone's love story has a unique shade. Every character in the movie has its own importance. Along with rom-com elements, the story also features a psycho character.

Music for Sudeep's song is composed by Nakul Abhyankar, while Jassie Gift has composed the remaining three songs and the background score. The film's cinematography is handled by H.C. Venu. The cast includes Chandan Kumar, Nimika Ratnakar, Akshatha Bopayya, senior actor Avinash, actress Shruti, Sadhu Kokila, Girish Shivanna, Vinay Gowda, Rangayana Raghu, Ashok Hegde, Aravind Rao, and Moogu Suresh.

The film will be grandly released across the state on November 28.

Special counters opened to pay pending fine amount

MYSURU

K.K.Amarnath, senior civil judge and member-secretary, and secretary, District Legal Services Authority, Mysuru inaugurated a special counter at Regional Transport Office near Hardwick School in Mysuru.

He told City Highlights the state government has recently taken a decision to give 50 per cent rebate for the pending dues pertaining to transport related violations. However, he said the state government has also given another chance for the payment of traffic related offences by paying 50 per cent of the fine amount. But, no detail was available regarding the pending cases and the total dues.

RTO Vasanth Eshwar Chavan, ARTO Ramachandra CN and others were present.

Medical Reps Say 'NO' to Anti-Worker Labour Codes

MYSURU

In response to the call given by the Federation of Medical Representatives Association of India (FMRAI), members of Karnataka State Medical and Sales Representatives Association, Mysuru presented a memorandum to Dr Shivaraj, Additional Deputy Commissioner in Mysuru on Monday.

They are opposing the Union Government's move to implement four new labour codes and demanded that the Centre withdraw the codes which, they alleged, undermine workers' rights, job security and legal protection for field sales employees.They argued that the new laws dilute key provisions relating to fixed working hours, collective bargaining, dispute redressal mechanisms and social security benefits. Protesters said that the government's "one-sided labour reforms" would directly impact the working class across industries, while leaving field sales employees more vulnerable to exploitation.

They alleged that the Industrial Relations Code and Occupational Safety & Working Conditions Code strip employees of the right to representation and easy access to labour courts. Under the new codes, companies can hire and fire workers more freely, bypassing long-standing safeguards that protect employees from arbitrary termination. The protesters highlighted that medical representatives already suffer from excessive working hours, unrealistic sales targets and lack of legal status as workers. The new codes fail to recognise specific and hazardous conditions faced by employees who travel extensively, work under pressure, and are exposed to various occupational risks.

MCCI welcomes new labour codes

MYSURU

Mysore Chamber of commerce & Industry President Sri. K.B.Lingaraju and Managing committee Members have welcomed the Central Government's new Labour codes.

In a press release here, they said in a landmark move aimed at reforming India's labour laws, the Government of India has officially announced the implementation of Labour Codes designed to simplify, streamline, and modernize the existing labour law framework. President of Mysore chamber of commerce & Industry K.B.Lingaraju said that these reforms will benefit both employers and employees by promoting ease of doing business, enhancing worker welfare, and creating a more transparent and efficient labour ecosystem.

He opined that the Labour Codes bring together various existing laws, consolidating them into a single, user-friendly framework. These reforms are in line with the government's commitment to improving the business environment, ensuring better compliance, and protecting the rights and interests of workers. mainly, mandatory wage payment before 7th of every month, free annual health check-up for all workers above 40 years of age.

Medical Reps Say 'NO' to Anti-Worker Labour Codes

MYSURU

In response to the call given by the Federation of Medical Representatives Association of India (FMRAI), members of Karnataka State Medical and Sales Representatives Association, Mysuru presented a memorandum to Dr Shivaraj, Additional Deputy Commissioner in Mysuru on Monday.

They alleged that the Industrial Relations Code and Occupational Safety & Working Conditions Code strip employees of the right to representation and easy access to labour courts. Under the new codes, companies can hire and fire workers more freely, bypassing long-standing safeguards that protect employees from arbitrary termination.

The protesters highlighted that medical representatives already suffer from excessive working hours, unrealistic sales targets and lack of legal status as workers. The new codes fail to recognise specific and hazardous conditions faced by employees who travel extensively, work under pressure, and are exposed to various occupational risks. The Social Security Code reduces guaranteed benefits for employees, especially contract and field workers, by allowing companies greater freedom in defining eligibility norms.

"Nataka in Karnataka: Has Siddaramaiah Blinked?"

Is D.K. Shivakumar Tightening His Grip on 'Mission CM 2025'?

SHYAM SUNDAR VATTAM, MYSURU

The political atmosphere in Karnataka has suddenly turned turbulent, raising fresh speculation about a possible change of leadership within the Congress government. Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, who until 48 hours ago was confidently declaring that he would remain in office till 2028 and present two more state budgets, has notably softened his tone.

His latest statement— "I will abide by the High Command's decision"—marks a dramatic shift from his earlier assertive stance. Interestingly, Deputy Chief Minister D.K. Shivakumar has echoed the same scripted line, intensifying curiosity over what is brewing behind closed doors in New Delhi.

The sudden mellowing of Siddaramaiah has raised a million-dollar question: Has Shivakumar finally started gaining the upper hand in his mission to become CM in 2025? A section of Congress MLAs loyal to Shivakumar has reportedly been stationed in New Delhi, lobbying the national leadership to hand over the leadership mantle to him. The move is seen as a show of strength designed to pressure the high command to honour an alleged power-sharing pact made before the 2023 Assembly elections.

Reports suggest that Siddaramaiah has tentatively agreed to step down after presenting the 2026–27 budget, which would create a record for the most budgets presented by a Karnataka CM. However, the D.K. Brothers—D.K. Shivakumar and former Bengaluru Rural MP D.K. Suresh—are reportedly opposed to this arrangement. Their objection is clear: They do not want to implement programs announced by Siddaramaiah. They want Shivakumar to present his own budget, marking his signature on governance.

D.K. Brothers Working Underground?

Sources indicate that the D.K. Brothers are working quietly to secure support from a maximum number of legislators to tilt the balance in their favour. In a CLP meeting scenario, if the CM is asked to prove majority among party MLAs, this underground mobilization could become crucial. Shivakumar has been meeting fence-sitters to widen his support base, and he reportedly even reached out to two jailed MLAs to garner their backing.

The current claims suggest he has support from around 60 of the 135 Congress MLAs, signaling a drop in Siddaramaiah's influence within the party.

Many ministers now find themselves in a dilemma. They are unwilling to align openly with Shivakumar until the High Command provides clarity. Declaring loyalty prematurely could backfire if the High Command decides to let Siddaramaiah continue. The political vacuum has left them confused and cautious.

All Eyes on Rahul Gandhi

Siddaramaiah is reportedly waiting for Rahul Gandhi's return from his international trip to present his case directly. His strategy is to convince Gandhi that removing him now could destabilize the government and potentially collapse the Congress regime in Karnataka. Meanwhile, Mallikarjun Kharge has expressed his inability to intervene, pushing the responsibility squarely onto the Gandhi family.

Given the current uncertainty and the brewing factionalism, the 'Nataka in Karnataka' is far from over. The real climax is likely to unfold only when the Congress High Command finally breaks its silence on the power-sharing agreement. Until then, political suspense will continue to grip Karnataka's corridors of power.

Cong high command is dead: Cheluvadi Narayanaswamy

MYSURU

With the Congress high command dead', the groups within that party have opened the centers to buy the legislators to increase the tally, alleged Leader of the Opposition in the State Legislative Council Cheluvadi Narayanaswamy.

Addressing a press conference here on Tuesday, he said the state government did not have the time and money to open the procurement centers to buy the agricultural produce from farmers but the factions were busy in the MLA purchasing centres. According to his knowledge, each MLA is priced at Rs 50 crore and it may go up in the coming days as the battle for CM gaddi intensifies in the coming days. The Congress high command is dead and gone due to which it had no control over its leaders. The dream of Mahatma Gandhi of the dissolution of the Congress Party in the country is happening fast and Leader of Opposition in Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi is all set to hammer the last nail on the Congress coffin. "Congress is a sinking ship and it will drown shortly".

Siddaramaiah is anti-dalit

The BJP leader said Chief Minister Siddaramaiah is anti-dalit and he was responsible for the defeat of Dr G. Parameshwar in 2013 Assembly polls as he was tipped as the first dalit CM of Karnataka. The incumbent government has diverted the SCP-TSP funds towards the guarantee schemes and has done injustice to Dalits. The funds were meant for the uplift of the SCs/STs but it had been utilised to give guarantees as promised by the Congress party in 2023 Assembly polls. If at all the Dalits were being meted out injustice it was the Congress party as its leader and first prime minister of the independent India, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru spoke about the withdrawal of the reservation rules for Dalits. It has been successful in keeping out the Dalits from power for six decades and the power is enjoyed by only the Gandhi family. To continue their control over the party, the Gandhi family has made Mallikarjuna Kharge as AiCC President without giving him full powers. The game plan of Gandhi's was to blame Kharge for the debacle of the Congress party across the country and dump him. If Kharge has any self-respect, he must quit the post and come back to Karnataka.

On the prevailing political situation in the state, the BJP said the people have heard or seen the formation of the coalition governments among two or more political parties but in Karnataka it has been the coalition government of various groups within the Congress party which are led by the CM Siddaramaiah, Deputy Chief Minister D.K.Shivakumar and Home Minister Dr G.Parameshwar. The internal bickering within the Congress party has taken the toll of the state's development and the people are now cursing themselves for giving a clear mandate to the Congress party thinking that it would improve the state. Already groupism has come to the fore and the MLAs are making trips to Delhi to stake claim to the CM post for their respective leaders. While Siddaramaiah is not ready to give up the CM post, Shivakumar is not ready to sit silent. In their fight all developments have come to a standstill

Narayanaswamy said the architect of the Indian Constitution, Dr B.R.Ambedkar had told long ago that the Congress party was like a burning house and the Dalits must come out of it. This is actually happening when they see the rout of the Congress party across the country. The days of the Congress disappearing from the political map is not far and once that happens, it would fulfill the dreams of Dr Ambedkar.

Well-Equipped Police Museum to be Established in Mysuru: G. Parameshwara

MYSURU

A modern and well-equipped Karnataka Police Museum will soon be set up in Mysuru, announced Home Minister Dr. G. Parameshwara.

During his visit to Mysuru district, the minister inspected the KSRP Mounted Police Company and gathered information from officers and personnel. He also visited the horse-mounted unit's museum and paid a surprise visit to the Nazarbad Police Station to assess its functioning.

Speaking to reporters later, he said that the growth of the Karnataka State Police Department from its inception to the present day, along with memorabilia of historical value, ought to be preserved. Hence, a renowned and well-designed police museum will be established in Mysuru.

He said Nazarbad Police Station is one of the oldest police stations in Mysuru. he had long planned to visit this place, and today he conducted a surprise inspection to review its functioning. "I examined record maintenance, storage of arms, and other aspects and instructed the officers to rectify the deficiencies. I personally spoke to four to five complainants who had come to the station."

The home minister said the complainants informed him about online fraud. They told him that after being cheated, they dialed the helpline number 1930, following which the fraudulent bank account was frozen. The minister said he had instructed officials to follow up thoroughly on these cases. He also directed officials to submit a proposal for constructing a new building for the Nazarbad Police Station.

Dr Parameshwar said he had almost completed his inspection at the Police Commissioner's office as well. Cyber fraud in Mysuru includes digital arrest scams, investment frauds, and other forms, amounting to approximately Rs 30 crore this year. Last year, the fraud value was nearly Rs 40 crore. Of the Rs 30 crore defrauded this year, Rs 5 crore has been recovered. Discussions were held on measures to prevent further crimes.

He revealed that a cybercrime gang operating from Bengaluru had been found targeting victims in the United States using digital arrest scams and were subsequently arrested. Cyber labs are being established in every police district across Karnataka. Bengaluru city already has a functional cyber lab. From constables to senior police officers, everyone must have technical knowledge and training in cybercrime. Within two years, training will be provided to all personnel in phases.

Talking about police working conditions, he stated that the National Police Commission has recommended guidelines regarding working hours for police personnel. In certain situations, it becomes difficult to adhere to those norms. The PSI recruitment had been halted due to irregularities. Those issues have now been resolved, over 900 PSIs have been recruited and sent for training. They will complete their training in two months and join duty. Until then, they must manage with the existing manpower.

Awareness on cybercrime is increasing, yet educated individuals are falling prey to online fraud. Recently, an IT professional working in a senior position in a software company in Bengaluru was continuously cheated of Rs 32 crore. Such cases show how even highly qualified individuals fall victim.

The minister also announced reforms in the police transfer policy. Earlier, transfers were made after just one year, causing pressure and hampering departmental work. Now, a minimum tenure of two years is mandatory for transfers. This has brought some improvement. Several more reforms will be introduced step by step in the police department.

Southern Range IGP Dr. M.B. Boralingaiah, Mysuru City Police Commissioner Seema Latkar, DCP Bindumani, Mysuru District SP Vishnuvardhan, and others were present.

Training Programme on BDSP (Business Development Service Providers)

MYSURU

A training programme on BDSP (Business Development Service Providers) is being organised by the Department of Industries and Commerce on November 29 at 10.30 a.m. at the Institute of Engineers auditorium in Mysuru.

The subject is highly beneficial for Small, Micro and Medium (MSME) industrial units. Hence, entrepreneurs from industrial units are requested to participate in the training programme and make use of the benefits.

For more details, industrialists may contact the office of the District Industrial Centre, CTI Building, Sayyaji Rao Road, Mysuru, or call Ph: 0821-2520886, stated the Joint Director of the District Industrial Centre in a press release.

Dy Commissioner of Police Bindumani raids Mysuru jail

MYSURU

Close on the heels of the recovery of banned items at Parappana Agrahara in Bengaluru, the Mysuru City police team led by Deputy Commissioner of Police (Law and Order) Bindumani conducted a surprise raid on the Mysuru Central Jail on the early hours of Tuesday.

According to sources, the raid began around 4 am and went on for almost two hours. A large police force and City Armed Reserve police personnel also took part in this surprise raid. The inmates were asked to assemble outside to facilitate the police to frisk each and every barrack. The raid came as a surprise for anyone as they had not expected the mercurial action from the DCP Bindumani on the backdrop of the seizure of several items from the prisoners' barracks at Parappanana Agrahara Jail.

So far, it is not known what all the banned items were seized from the Mysuru Central Prison.

HANDBOOK ON FACILITIES

Prepare a Handbook Beneficial to Minorities: U. Nissar Ahmed

MYSURU

A handbook containing complete information on facilities available for minorities from the government must be prepared, and awareness programmes should be organised every month, said U. Nissar Ahmed, Chairman of the Karnataka State Minorities Commission.

Speaking today after conducting a meeting with officers of the Minority Welfare Departments of Mandya, Mysuru, Hassan and Chamarajanagar districts at the auditorium of the Minorities Welfare Department here on Tuesday, he said the minority communities — Muslims, Christians, Buddhists, Jains, Sikhs and Parsis — must be listed with details such as their population in gram panchayats, educational institutions, hostels, elected representatives, names of achievers from various fields and their contact numbers, and these must be compiled into a handbook.

He said if village- and taluk-wise data on minorities is prepared, it will help understand their needs and ensure delivery of government facilities to them. Taluk-level officers must prepare information required for the handbook under the guidance of district-level officials. The list must also include places of worship of minorities, such as mosques, basadis and churches located in gram panchayats. Awareness programmes must be organised at these places regarding various facilities available from the Minorities Welfare Department and other government departments.

Ahmed said the residential localities of minorities must be identified, their problems assessed, and awareness programmes should be organised to ensure that relevant schemes reach them effectively. The budget sanctioned to the Minorities Welfare Commission earlier was very small, but it has now been increased. Job charts and annual timetables have been prepared for every officer and staff member. All officials must work accordingly.

Special Duty Officer to the Commission Mujibulla Jafari, President of Noor Education & Research Foundation Syed Aqeel Ahmed, Commission members Masrool Ahmed, Jek Met Wangdus Jyothi and several others were present.

Vande Bharat Thanisandra Depot Tender Deadline Extended

Railways extend bid deadline for Thanisandra depot crucial for sleepers

BENGALURU

The South Western Railway has extended the bid submission deadline for constructing a dedicated depot to maintain Vande Bharat sleeper trains in Thanisandra, a facility that is expected to play a key role in enhancing Bengaluru's railway infrastructure. Tenders were originally invited in July under the Engineering, Construction and Procurement (ECP) model, with the deadline set for November 21. This has now been extended to December 12, allowing more time for bidders to participate.

The decision to build the depot comes as the Railways prepares to roll out its next major upgrade—Vande Bharat Sleeper trains—following the success of the seater versions. Sleeper train production is currently progressing at full speed, and the Railway Board has identified five locations across the country to host specialised depots. Thanisandra, located between Channasandra and Yelahanka railway stations and adjacent to the now-defunct Thanisandra station, has been selected as one of these sites. The planned facility, capable of handling 16 coaches, carries an estimated project cost of ₹227.94 crore.

The construction of the Thanisandra Vande Bharat maintenance depot is a welcome move. However, delays in the tendering process must be minimised to prevent future slowdowns, said K.N. Krishna Prasad of the Karnataka Railway Forum.

This development complements ongoing capacity expansion across Bengaluru's rail network. At the Banaswadi MEMU shed, an additional ₹50 crore is being invested to enhance maintenance capabilities for Vande Bharat seater trains. Similarly, the Sir M. Visvesvaraya Terminal in Byappanahalli is set to receive a fourth pit line at a cost of ₹123 crore, strengthening overall operational efficiency.

Railway officials confirmed that two prototype Vande Bharat sleeper trains have already been manufactured at BEML's Chennai Integral Coach Factory (ICF) but are yet to be released due to technical reasons.

Karnataka State to Abolish Outsourced Recruitment by 2028

BENGALURU

The Karnataka government is preparing to completely abolish outsourced recruitment in all government departments by 2028, a major administrative shift aimed at curbing exploitation and ensuring transparency in public-sector employment. As part of this initiative, the government is also planning to introduce a Ban on Private Outsourcing in Government Institutions Bill during the Belagavi winter session beginning December 8. The decision follows widespread complaints that private outsourcing agencies have been exploiting employees through delayed salaries, non-payment of Provident Fund (PF) and Employee State Insurance (ESI), and payment of wages below mandated levels. There has also been growing pressure to fill the large number of vacant government posts rather than relying on outsourced labour. A senior Labour Department official said the government intends to dismantle the outsourced recruitment system altogether, both to eliminate corruption and to protect workers from harassment by intermediary agencies.

State government moves to end outsourced hiring and introduce stricter employment regulation

According to the 2022–23 Budget Estimates, Karnataka has 7,69,982 sanctioned posts across 43 departments, of which 2,58,709 remain vacant. Despite these vacancies, departments have collectively hired more than three lakh outsourced employees—far exceeding the number of sanctioned empty posts.

This system shields outsourced employees from exploitation by agencies, which are often accused of paying below minimum wage and delaying PF and ESI contributions, Arjun said.

To ensure a smooth transition, the government will phase out all contracts with private outsourcing firms by March 31, 2028. In the interim, it plans to implement the Bidar model statewide for responsible management of outsourced labour.

Under the Bidar model, salaries and benefits are disbursed directly to contract employees through a cooperative society headed by the District Magistrate, thereby removing private agencies from the process. After departments forward the names of recruited personnel, the cooperative registers them and ensures on-time payment of wages, PF and ESI, explained Arjun Seethalagere, secretary of the Bidar District Labour Services Multipurpose Cooperative Association.

Thieves Strike Yeshwanthpur Shop, Caught on CCTV

Bengaluru

A theft was reported at Brahmashree Condiments in Yeshwanthpur early Tuesday, with miscreants escaping with cash and cigarette packs. The incident occurred around 3 a.m., and the thieves' movements were captured on CCTV cameras installed inside the shop. The footage shows the burglars breaking in and quickly taking valuables before fleeing the scene. The shop owner has approached the police to file a formal complaint, and an investigation is underway to identify and trace the culprits. Police are examining the CCTV footage for leads and have intensified patrolling in the area following the latest theft.

Autorickshaw Driver Dies of Cardiac Arrest in Domlur

Bengaluru

An autorickshaw driver died of a sudden cardiac arrest while sitting down for breakfast near the EGL area in Domlur on Tuesday. According to police, the driver collapsed and died on the spot before any help could arrive. Efforts are underway to establish his identity, and the body has been shifted for postmortem examination. Police have begun an investigation and are checking with local auto stands and residents to trace the victim's details and family.

Woman Found at Youth's House; Man Beaten to Death

BENGALURU

A 32-year-old man was beaten to death in Mutyalamma Nagar, Yeswanthpur, after the family of a married woman allegedly found her at his house and attacked him in a fit of rage. The deceased has been identified as Narasimharaju. Police said the woman, who is married, frequently visited Narasimharaju's residence, and the two were suspected to be in a relationship. On Saturday (Nov. 22), the woman was reportedly inside his house when her family learned of her whereabouts. Enraged, four to five of her relatives rushed to the spot.

They allegedly dragged Narasimharaju out of his house and brutally assaulted him on the road. His mother, who tried to intervene and save her son, was also attacked and sustained injuries. Locals alerted authorities, and the injured youth was immediately shifted to K.C. General Hospital. However, doctors declared him dead shortly after admission.

A case has been registered at the Yeswanthpur Police Station. The victim's family has expressed anger and frustration, alleging that the accused are yet to be arrested despite clear involvement. Police say efforts are underway to identify and apprehend all suspects involved.

Dowry Harassment Alleged as GBA Marshal's Wife Dies by Suicide

BENGALURU

A 28-year-old woman died by suicide in Govindarajanagar amid allegations from her family that she had been subjected to dowry harassment and domestic violence by her husband. The deceased has been identified as Rekha, a native of Gokak in Belagavi district.

Rekha's parents have alleged that her husband, Mayappa — a GBA marshal — had been assaulting her regularly, especially when drunk, and was persistently harassing her for dowry. They further claimed that Rekha's death may not be suicide, but a possible murder disguised as one. Police, however, have registered a case of unnatural death and taken Mayappa into custody for questioning.

Rekha and Mayappa, both from Gokak, had met when she was a college student and he was working as a clerk in the same institution. Their relationship turned into a love marriage six years ago, and the couple later moved to Bengaluru. They were living in a rented house in Govindarajanagar with their two young children — a four-year-old daughter and a two-year-old son — both now left orphaned by the tragedy.

According to her parents, Rekha had frequently complained that her husband would beat her after drinking and demand additional dowry despite already having taken gold and silver at the time of marriage. "My daughter was a good person. His torture never stopped. He has killed her. Who will look after these two small children now? We want justice," her father said.

Police officials said the exact cause of Rekha's death will be determined after a thorough investigation. The Govindarajanagar Police are awaiting forensic reports and statements from neighbours and family members as part of the probe.

Team Formed to Probe Jayanagar Complex Fire

BENGALURU

A fire broke out on the first and second floors of a commercial complex in Jayanagar 4th Block on Monday, prompting a swift response from the South Municipal Corporation and Fire and Emergency Services. Officials rushed to the spot after receiving information and began rescue operations immediately, following the disconnection of power supply to the multi-storey structure.

During the evacuation, firefighters rescued Krishnegowda, who was trapped inside the building's lift. Another individual.

Raid on Gaming Apps: ED Seizes Bank Accounts, Bonds and Mutual Funds

BENGALURU

In a major crackdown on financial fraud in the online gaming sector, the Enforcement Directorate (ED) has seized bank accounts, bonds, and mutual funds amounting to more than ₹527 crore during raids conducted under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA).

The ED carried out searches at offices linked to the gaming app Winjo in Bengaluru and Gurgaon, seizing deposits, bonds, and mutual fund holdings worth about ₹505 crore. According to officials, the investigation revealed that Winjo Games Private Limited had been systematically cheating customers by manipulating game outcomes using hidden algorithms and software.

The probe also uncovered that the company had created a shell entity, Winjo US Inc., through which about $55 million (approximately ₹489.9 crore) was illegally transferred from India to the U.S. and Singapore. Furthermore, authorities found that Winjo withheld ₹43 crore that should have been refunded to users even after the Central government banned real-money gaming.

In parallel action, ED officials conducted raids on two other gaming companies — Pocket-52 (Nirdesa Networks Pvt. Ltd.) and Gamescraft Technologies — following allegations of similar fraudulent practices. Investigators found that Pocket-52 allegedly predetermined game results and introduced artificial technical glitches to ensure user losses. One user reportedly lost ₹3 crore due to such systematic manipulation.

Despite the Central government enforcing the Promotion and Regulation of Online Gaming Act, 2025, which bans real-money gaming, these companies continued to retain over ₹30 crore in customer escrow accounts instead of returning the funds.

The ED has seized mobile phones and laptops of the companies' directors and attached eight bank accounts containing around ₹18.57 crore. Investigations into the widespread fraud and money laundering network are ongoing.

Lorry Plunges into Lake While Avoiding Pothole; Driver Missing

BENGALURU

A 12-wheeler lorry carrying gravel plunged into Bidaraguppe Lake on the Attibele–Sarjapur Road in Anekal taluk late Monday night after the driver attempted to avoid a deep pothole. The incident occurred around 11.30 p.m., and the driver, Mahesh (37) from Kalaburagi, is feared to have drowned. According to preliminary reports, the lorry was travelling from Attibele towards Sarjapur when the driver lost control on a narrow stretch of road running directly above the lake. The road, part of the state highway, has been in poor condition for months, with potholes and chaotic traffic posing serious risks.

Although RNS Contractors was awarded the tender to upgrade the road, the lakeside stretch has not yet been widened, leading to frequent accidents.

International Flower Market Plan at GKVK Shelved Amid Tree-Felling Concerns

BENGALURU

A plan to establish an international flower market at the Gandhi Krishi Vigyan Kendra (GKVK) campus in north Bengaluru has effectively been shelved following intense public opposition over the proposed felling of nearly 900 trees. Although a review meeting held on November 12 did not arrive at a final decision, official records show that the government is seriously exploring alternative locations, placing the GKVK proposal in cold storage.

The initial proposal sparked widespread mobilisation under the Save GKVK campaign, uniting environmental activists, students, neighbourhood groups, and farmer organisations. Their primary concern was the ecological impact, as the project required either cutting or translocating a large number of mature trees.

During the November 12 meeting, officials from the horticulture and agricultural marketing departments, the University of Horticultural Sciences, and the International Flower Auction Bengaluru reassessed the plan. According to the minutes, significant reservations were expressed about situating the market inside the GKVK campus. A senior university official noted that GKVK needs 150 acres to maintain its Indian Council of Agricultural Research (ICAR) accreditation but currently has only 125 acres.

At least four potential sites are now under consideration:

- 30 acres in Byatarayanapura (currently under arbitration as per a High Court order)
- Land near Electronic City, with scope to relocate KR Market flower traders
- Upgradation of the Binnypet APMC flower market
- Implementation of the long-pending Binnypet DPR

In response, the horticulture secretary directed officials to review land-ownership documents and confirm that no legal issues obstruct the institution's boundaries.

Meanwhile, discussions on alternative sites revealed complexities. Agricultural Marketing Joint Director V. Rajanna highlighted that the Byatarayanapura land remains stuck in arbitration, while land near Electronic City could offer logistical advantages. Officials also revisited the proposal to upgrade the Binnypet APMC market — a project with a Detailed Project Report prepared nearly five years ago but yet to be implemented.

The government is expected to continue evaluating feasible options before finalising a location for the international flower market.

AVOIDING TRAFFIC CONGESTION

Complete Hebbal Loop in 15 Days: Chief Commissioner

BENGALURU

Chief Commissioner Maheshwar Rao has directed Bengaluru Development Authority (BDA) officials to complete construction of the new loop at the Hebbal flyover within 15 days and open it to traffic, stressing the need to ease heavy congestion at one of the city's busiest junctions.

Rao issued the instructions during an inspection of several locations under the Bengaluru North City Corporation limits. He noted that the flyover bringing vehicles into the city from the KR Puram side has already been completed and opened. With this in place, the connecting loop between the new and existing flyovers must now be finished without delay, he said.

The first girder for the new Hebbal loop has been installed, and concrete work is underway. Rao instructed officials to install the remaining two girders and finish the pending work at the earliest.

BDA officials informed him that discussions are in progress with various departments regarding a proposed 1.4 km flyover from Esteem Mall on Ballari Road to Manyata Tech Park. Steps will be taken to implement the project soon, they added.

During the inspection, Rao pointed out that the footpath alongside Hebbal Lake had been damaged in several stretches. He directed officials to repair the walkway, clear roadside garbage, and remove an obstructing pole to maintain cleanliness and improve pedestrian safety.

A section of the Hebbal flyover has already undergone milling and asphalting. Rao instructed the engineering teams to mill the remaining sections and complete the asphalting work immediately to ensure smooth movement of vehicles.

In Hebbal, RMV 2nd Stage and Basaveshwara Layout, Rao inspected road conditions and asked officials to expedite asphalting on arterial and sub-arterial stretches. He also reviewed an under-construction building adjacent to MCC land in RMV 2nd Phase and instructed officials to verify potential encroachment. If any violation is detected, strict action must be taken as per regulations, he said.

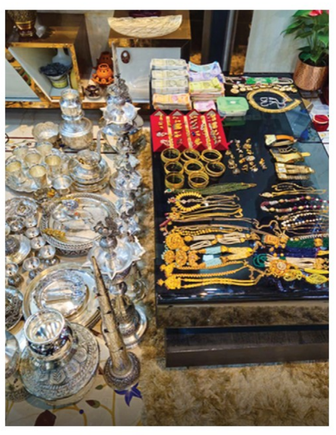
North City Corporation Commissioner Pommala Sunil Kumar, Joint Commissioner Mohammed Nayeem Momin, BDA engineers, and officials from the Metro, Water Board, and Traffic Police were present during the inspection.

Karnataka Lokayukta raids 10 locations across 8 districts

Lokayukta officials carried out widespread raids targeting government officers accused of amassing disproportionate assets across Karnataka districts

BENGALURU

Karnataka Lokayukta officials carried out raids on Tuesday at 10 locations across eight districts, targeting government officers accused of accumulating disproportionate assets beyond their known sources of income. The operations were conducted in Mandya, Bidar, Mysuru, Dharwad, Haveri, Bengaluru, Shivamogga, and Davanagere.



The officials under scrutiny include D.M. Girish, Assistant Executive Engineer, PWD; C. Puttaswamy, Chief Accounts Officer, Mandya Town Planning; Prem Singh, Chief Engineer, Upper Krishna Project, Bidar; C. Ramaswamy, Revenue Inspector, Hootagalli Municipality, Mysuru; and Subhash Chandra, Assistant Professor, Karnataka University, Dharwad. Raids were also carried out at properties of Huilgol Sathish, Senior Veterinary Examiner; Shekappa, Executive Engineer, Project Director Haveri; P. Kumaraswamy, Office Superintendent, Bengaluru RTO Electronics City; and C.N. Lakshmipathi, First Division Assistant, SIMS Medical College, Shivamogga.

Earlier, on November 7, the Lokayukta had conducted surprise raids at six Bengaluru RTOs following public complaints, uncovering large-scale irregularities in Yeshwanthpur, Rajajinagar, Jayanagar, Yelahanka, Kasturinagar, and K.R. Puram.

Previously, searches targeting 12 officials and their relatives across 48 locations led to the seizure of Rs 381 crore in assets, including land, houses, cash, jewelry, vehicles, and other movable and immovable properties.

The Karnataka government's continued crackdown reflects its determination to combat corruption and ensure that public servants operate with integrity, preventing citizens from being exploited due to the greed of officials. These raids signal the administration's firm stance on accountability and transparency in governance.

Disability does not hinder achievement: Justice Vijay

CHITRADURGA

Senior Civil Judge and Secretary of the District Legal Services Authority, Justice M. Vijay, emphasized that disabilities do not prevent individuals from achieving success, provided they possess self-confidence and determination. He made these remarks during the inauguration of a special sports and cultural event for persons with disabilities, organized at the Onake Obavva District Stadium in Chitradurga to mark International Day of Persons with Disabilities 2025.

Senior Civil Judge M. Vijay inaugurated Chitradurga's disability sports and cultural event, emphasizing that determination and self-confidence overcome all physical challenges

The event was jointly hosted by the District Legal Services Authority, District Administration, Zilla Panchayat, Department of Empowerment of Persons with Disabilities, Women and Child Development Department, Youth Empowerment and Sports Department, and various NGOs working in the disability sector. After inaugurating the event, Justice Vijay flagged off sports competitions, inspiring participants to showcase their talents.

Speaking at the event, he highlighted government initiatives designed to integrate persons with disabilities into the mainstream and promote their welfare. He also noted that the courts have special provisions to handle disability-related cases promptly, and the District Legal Services Authority provides free legal advice and support from Taluk to Supreme Court levels. In Chitradurga district, a dedicated team of 15 officials assists individuals in accessing these services.

Other dignitaries, including K.H. Vijay Kumar, Deputy Director of Women and Child Development, and Y. Ravikumar, Executive Officer of Chitradurga Taluk Panchayat, encouraged participants to make full use of such opportunities. They noted that district-level sports and cultural competitions are already being organized for visually impaired students, with awards and certificates to be distributed to selected participants. J. Vaishali, District Officer for Disability Welfare, added that these annual programs aim to provide health check-up camps, raise awareness of government schemes, and highlight that persons with disabilities are excelling in all fields. Several department officials, teachers, and NGO representatives also attended the event, reinforcing the importance of inclusion, empowerment, and recognition for persons with disabilities.

₹29-crore plan approved to improve Ghati Subramanya Temple facilities

DEVANAHALLI

Transport and Muzrai Minister Ramalinga Reddy announced that a new Dasoha Bhavan will be built at Sri Ghati Subramanya Temple at a cost of ₹16 crore. The facility will allow 2,000 devotees to dine at the same time, ensuring better comfort during peak seasons. Addressing a press meet at the temple auditorium in Doddaballapur taluk, he said that over 25 lakh devotees visit the shrine every year, making upgraded amenities essential. The façade of the upcoming dining hall will be designed in traditional Hoysala architecture.

To improve convenience during festivals, a dedicated Ratha Beedi (chariot street) will be constructed. Additional works include concrete roads around the temple, upgraded sanitation, and a new guest house costing ₹1.5 crore. Plans are also underway to distribute laddus made with pure ghee as prasadam. In total, developmental works worth ₹29 crore received administrative approval during the meeting. The Brahmarathotsava of Sri Ghati Subramanya will be held on December 25, featuring elaborate floral arrangements and lighting. Arrangements for drinking water, queue systems and temporary toilets will be made for devotees.

This year's Ghati Jatra will be toll-free, with no fees for livestock or vehicles. Senior citizens, specially-abled individuals, pregnant women and new mothers will be allowed direct darshan. From December 10 to 18, the annual cattle fair will be held, with special lighting, drinking water facilities, veterinary support to prevent disease outbreaks among animals, and free food for farmers attending the event.

Judge Vijay calls for respect and safety for working women

CHITRADURGA

Senior Civil Judge and District Legal Services Authority Member-Secretary M. Vijay emphasized that men must treat women at their workplaces with the same respect and protection they offer to the women in their families. He said workplaces should nurture a culture where women are seen as colleagues deserving dignity, safety, and support. He was speaking at a one-day workshop on the Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal of Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace Act, 2013, held at the District Bal Bhavan. The event was jointly organized by the District Administration, Zilla Panchayat, District Legal Services Authority, Women & Child Development Department, the District Women Empowerment Unit, and the Child Protection Unit, marking the International Day for the Elimination of Violence Against Women. Judge Vijay noted that women's participation in the workforce has increased from 18% to 41%, placing greater responsibility on employers to ensure safe working conditions. With technological advances, he warned of rising digital harassment, exploitation, and abuse targeting women and young girls, stressing the need for digital safety awareness.

Stop seeking votes by misusing Ambedkar's name: Fmr MP

DEVANAHALLI

Former MP Muniswamy condemned those who display copies of the Constitution and seek votes in Dr. B.R. Ambedkar's name only during elections, calling for strong public rejection of such opportunistic politics. He was addressing a press conference at the Devanahalli BJP office regarding the upcoming Constitution Day to be observed on November 26.

Muniswamy, who oversees the Bengaluru Rural District SC Morcha, said the BJP has consistently protested against the Congress government for what he described as its disrespectful treatment of Dr. Ambedkar. He stated that on November 26, a grand Constitution Day programme will be held in Chikkaballapur, where awareness will be created about the alleged insults Congress has inflicted upon Ambedkar, along with events to commemorate his legacy.

He criticised the Congress government for diverting funds meant for children, women, and the economically weak to implement its guarantee schemes. According to him, the electoral results clearly show that people reject the leadership of Rahul Gandhi, and the decline of Congress is evident. He added that voters understand who the "real vote thieves" are.

District BJP president Ramakrishnappa said that resisting the Congress during the Emergency was the nation's true moment of freedom, and those who denied Ambedkar an honourable burial during their regime cannot expect public support.

SC Morcha district president Narayanaswamy noted that it has been 76 years since the Constitution was adopted in 1949 and accused Congress of making several amendments that create unnecessary fear among the public. He highlighted that the BJP-led central government has developed all five key pilgrimage sites associated with Dr. Ambedkar, including his birthplace, places of education, Dikshabhoomi, and Mahaparinirvana site.

No. CIMS/Supply/Hospital/M.M./e-Tender/01/2025-26 Dated: 20.11.2025

Public Notice

An article has been published in daily newspapers on 20.11.2025 regarding violation in purchase tender of life saving medicines used for treatment of patients at Aralaguppe Mallegowda Hospital, which is the teaching hospital of Chikkamagaluru Medical College and similar misconduct that has happened at a medical college in another district.

Regarding the said subject Administrative Control of Aralaguppe Mallegowda District Hospital coming under Health and Family Welfare Department was given to Chikkamagaluru Institute of Medical Sciences coming into effect from 01.04.2024. As per this the 290 bed capacity District Hospital was upgraded to 400 bed Teaching Hospital. For treatment of patients, approval was taken for purchase of high quality life saving medicines with a limit of up to Rs. 495.00 lakhs for 1 year in the 5th finance committee meeting held on 26.12.2024.

As per this, for purchase of life saving medicines, as already being purchased at other medical colleges, e-Tender was invited on 20.05.2025, as per KTPP Act and according to rules in e-procurement portal. 08 suppliers participated in the process and 07 suppliers have been eligible in the Technical Bid according to rules. Accordingly the model examination of life saving medicines was conducted on 04.08.2025 and since Riddi Pharma did not participate in this process they have been disqualified as per rules. On 14.08.2025 Financial Bid was opened and 06 suppliers (1. KEMPS Agency, 2. M/s. S.L.R. Agency, 3. M/s. Rajalakshmi Agencies, 4. M/s. Nuthan Pharma, 5. M/S. Sri Shiva Pharma & 6. Avishkarr Surgical India Pvt. Ltd.) have obtained eligibility. The documents of these 06 suppliers was put in a file and was presented to the purchase committee meeting at the Directorate of Medical Education. At the purchase committee, a high level committee including the bio medical engineer, examined the submitted file and as per the proceedings of the decisions discussed at the purchase committee meeting held on 10.09.2025 rate negotiation was held on 02.09.2025 and 1% lesser rate than the minimum rates quoted by the 06 suppliers was fixed and purchase order has been given to the suppliers as per rules for purchase of high quality life saving medicines on 16.09.2025.

The purchase has been made as per KTPP Act to ensure that there is no illegality, misconduct and disturbance in execution in the purchase. As published in the article in newspapers, there is no criterion in tender documents that bidders need to bid for all 419 life saving medicines and it is informed that there is no violation of any type in KTPP Act.

Leopard Near Airport Prompts Safety Measures

Pune

A leopard was seen near Pune International Airport on November 19, creating concern in the high-security area. Union Minister Murlidhar Mohol has asked officials to increase search and rescue efforts to ensure public safety. He also directed the use of advanced technology to track and capture the animal quickly. Forest department teams and Indian Air Force personnel are already searching in the airport surroundings. Authorities have urged people nearby to stay alert and avoid isolated areas until the animal is found.

Assam Tables Report On 1983 Poll Violence

Guwahati

Assam Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma on Tuesday placed the Mehta Commission report in the Assembly. The report looks into the violence during the 1983 state elections. The commission, led by Justice (retd) T.U. Mehta, was set up by an organisation and activists of the Assam Movement. The agitation, held from 1979 to 1985 against illegal migration, saw serious clashes. Over 2,100 people were killed in the tragic Nellie massacre. No discussion was held after the report was laid.

Man Arrested For Harassing Woman News Anchor

New Delhi

Delhi Police have arrested a 40-year-old man from Mumbai for allegedly harassing a woman news anchor online. Officials said the accused, Chet Kamal Prakash from Jammu, created several fake social media accounts using the anchor's photos. He then posted defamatory and threatening content to trouble her. The woman filed a complaint after noticing the fake profiles and harmful posts. Police tracked the accused to Mumbai and arrested him. An investigation into his activities is still ongoing.

Supreme Court Upholds Army Officer's Dismissal

NEW DELHI

The Supreme Court on Tuesday strongly criticized the conduct of former Army officer Samuel Kamalesan, describing his refusal to enter a temple during regimental activities as the "grossest kind of indiscipline." The court dismissed his plea challenging termination from service, upholding the Army's decision.

A bench led by Chief Justice Surya Kant and Justice Joymalya Bagchi refused to interfere with the Delhi High Court's ruling that had earlier supported the Army's action. The judges said Kamalesan's behavior was incompatible with military discipline and undermined the unity expected from officers.

"What kind of message has he been sending? He should have been thrown out for this only," remarked the Chief Justice. The bench stressed that leaders must set examples for their troops and cannot follow personal interpretations of religion while in uniform.

The Supreme Court dismissed a Christian Army officer's plea against dismissal, calling his refusal to enter a temple "gross indiscipline" and stressing the importance of unity in the armed forces

Kamalesan's lawyer, senior advocate Gopal Sankaranarayanan, argued that his client was dismissed for a single act of refusal, which he believed violated his Christian faith. He added that the officer had otherwise participated respectfully in multi-faith events.

The court, however, noted that the regiment also maintained a gurdwara for Sikh soldiers, emphasizing that such spaces are secular and meant to unify personnel. Justice Bagchi questioned whether Christian faith explicitly barred entry into temples, pointing out that even a local pastor had advised Kamalesan that entering a "sarva dharma sthal" would not violate his beliefs.

Commissioned in 2017 into the 3rd Cavalry Regiment, Kamalesan served as troop leader of the 'B' Squadron, comprising Sikh soldiers. The Army said he repeatedly refused to attend mandatory parades despite counseling, weakening unit cohesion.

Pressure on candidates raises concern in Maharashtra elections

PUNE

NCP (Sharad Pawar) national working president Supriya Sule has written to the Maharashtra State Election Commissioner, claiming that candidates in the upcoming local body elections are being pressured to withdraw. She alleged that "vested interests" are trying to secure unopposed victories by using threats and force. Sule expressed concern over what she called a rising and "worrying trend" of unopposed wins happening even before polling begins.

Her letter comes days after Maharashtra BJP chief Ravindra Chavan said that 100 ruling party councillors had already been elected unopposed in municipal councils and nagar panchayats. Opposition parties have alleged that the BJP is pushing dynastic politics to grassroots levels and using police pressure to favour relatives of influential leaders.

NCP (SP) claims candidates are facing threats to quit polls

Local body elections for 246 municipal councils and 42 nagar panchayats are scheduled for December 2. Civic corporation elections are likely in January 2026. Sule, daughter of NCP (SP) chief Sharad Pawar, said the Election Commission must ensure that democratic values are protected and the process remains fair and transparent.

She reminded the SEC that Maharashtra has always followed strong democratic principles built on inclusion and public participation. "Yashwantrao Chavan ensured democratic leadership emerged from every village," she wrote. Sule stated that the "greed for power" is now damaging that proud legacy by making polls unopposed.

The Baramati MP stressed that threats and intimidation of candidates go against the spirit of democracy. She urged authorities to guarantee a free and fearless atmosphere for campaigning and voting so that people's voices are heard.

"Unfortunately, this does not seem to be happening now," Sule warned. She said she has raised the issue to protect the state's democratic character and maintain public trust in the election system.

Supreme Court Seeks EC Stand On Tamil Nadu Roll Revision

NEW DELHI

The Supreme Court on Tuesday asked the Election Commission of India (EC) to respond to a petition filed by MDMK founder and former Rajya Sabha member Vaiko. He has challenged the EC's decision to conduct a Special Intensive Revision (SIR) of electoral rolls in Tamil Nadu. A bench of Chief Justice Surya Kant and Justice Joymalya Bagchi listed the matter for hearing on December 2.

Vaiko argued that the revision process violates fundamental rights, including the right to equality. He also said it goes against provisions under the Representation of the People Act and the Registration of Electors Rules, 1960. According to him, the notification was brought without proper justification and may affect fair elections in the state.

Several other parties and leaders have also opposed the move. The DMK, CPI(M), TVK, and actor Vijay have already filed petitions challenging the same revision. They fear that sudden and large-scale changes in voter lists could lead to irregularities or voter exclusions.

Earlier on November 11, the Supreme Court had also asked the EC to reply to similar petitions from leaders in West Bengal, including those from DMK, CPI(M), Congress, and Trinamool Congress. The court additionally directed the Madras High Court and Calcutta High Court to pause any hearings on related cases until the top court examines the issue.

Meanwhile, the AIADMK has supported the special revision in Tamil Nadu and filed an intervention plea. The Supreme Court has allowed it to be heard when the case takes place. The matter remains significant as both states are heading toward important elections in the coming years, making the accuracy of voter rolls crucial for ensuring transparency and trust in the democratic process.

Mamata Warns Matuas Of Delisting Under CAA Move

BONGAON

West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee on Tuesday strongly criticised the ongoing Special Intensive Revision (SIR) of electoral rolls, claiming that Matua voters could lose their names from the voter list if they declare themselves foreigners under the Citizenship (Amendment) Act (CAA). Addressing an anti-SIR rally in Bongaon, a Matua-dominated region, she alleged that the exercise was a plan to deprive people of their rights.

Banerjee said the Election Commission was "no longer impartial" and accused it of working in favour of the BJP. She claimed the Commission had turned into a "BJP Commission", and warned that if she was forced into a confrontation, she would "shake the BJP's foundation" across India. The chief minister asserted that the saffron party had repeatedly failed to defeat her politically, despite trying "umpteen times".

Questioning the government's claims, Banerjee asked why the SIR was also being held in BJP-ruled states if the objective was to identify "illegal Bangladeshis". She alleged that the BJP was indirectly admitting the presence of "ghuspaithiyas" in states governed by its own party. Banerjee said the draft electoral roll would expose the "disastrous situation" created by the SIR process.

She also linked the Bihar election result to the revision exercise, saying the Opposition there could not understand what the BJP was doing. Banerjee added that if the revision process was carried out slowly over two to three years, the Trinamool Congress would provide full cooperation, but warned that a rushed exercise would not be accepted.

Madras HC Rejects Plea On Brand Hashtag Use

CHENNAI

The Madras High Court on Tuesday declined to issue an interim injunction against costume designer Joy Crizildaa, who was accused of damaging the reputation of catering brand 'Madhampatty Pakashala' through her social media posts.

Justice N. Senthilkumar dismissed the plea filed by Madhampatty Thangavelu Hospitality Private Limited, which alleged that Crizildaa's posts had led to the cancellation of catering contracts worth several crores. The company claimed she was using the brand name to pursue a personal dispute, asserting a marital relationship with one of its directors, T. Rangaraj.

The petition sought to restrain Crizildaa from tagging or hashtagging the company's brand names and from posting any allegedly defamatory content, including photos, captions, videos or reels. It also asked the court to direct her to delete existing posts.

Appearing for Crizildaa, senior counsel S. Prabakaran opposed the injunction and filed a counter affidavit denying the allegations. The catering company, represented by senior counsel P.S. Raman and advocate Vijayan Subramaniam, argued that Madhampatty Thangavelu Hospitality, incorporated in 2010, had built its reputation through quality service, brand promotion, and investments. The brand, they said, had earned recognition across Tamil Nadu, serving celebrities, corporates, politicians, and government institutions.

The company alleged that Crizildaa's posts since July 2025 were defamatory and motivated by malice, claiming they could cause serious reputational and commercial harm. However, the court refused to grant interim relief, stating the matter would be decided during the full trial.

With the injunction plea dismissed, the civil suit will now proceed on its merits.

Congress Criticises Tree Cutting For Adani Coal Mining Project

NEW DELHI

The Congress party on Tuesday accused the Adani Group of cutting trees on a large scale in the Dhirauli area of Madhya Pradesh for a coal mining project. It called the reported tree felling an "environmental tragedy" and a "social and economic disaster" for local Adivasi communities who depend on forests for their livelihood. Congress leader Jairam Ramesh alleged that the project is moving forward by ignoring legal procedures.

Ramesh said heavy police forces have been deployed at the forest site. Villagers have been stopped from entering the area and outsiders denied access. He also claimed that Madhya Pradesh Adivasi Congress President Ramu Tekam was arrested for raising the issue. Congress stated that the government and company are using threats and force to continue the work.

In September, the Congress had earlier accused the Adani Group of violating the Forest Rights Act by cutting trees without proper approval. It claimed the central government pushed the project in 2019 and is now rushing construction in 2025. The party said the land falls under the Fifth Schedule of the Constitution, which provides special protection to Adivasi regions.

The Madhya Pradesh government rejected the charges, saying all rules were followed. It said the Union Environment Ministry has already given final environmental clearance to the project. The Environment Ministry also denied Congress' claims last week, calling them misleading.

Ramesh insisted that "blatant irregularities" continue and said the government's reply in Parliament proves the area is protected. He urged authorities to stop the destruction of forests and protect Adivasi rights before any further action is taken.

Hindu Group Protests Muslim Admissions, Omar Defends Merit

JAMMU

A fresh controversy broke out in Jammu and Kashmir on Tuesday over admissions to the Shri Mata Vaishno Devi Institute of Medical Excellence (SMVDIME). A right-wing Hindu group opposed the selection of 42 Muslim students for MBBS seats, sparking sharp reactions from Chief Minister Omar Abdullah.

The Shri Mata Vaishno Devi Sangarsh Samiti, led by retired Colonel Sukhbir Singh Mankotia, announced plans to launch an agitation. Mankotia claimed it was unjust that most of the 50 MBBS seats had gone to Muslim students. He argued that since the college is funded by Hindu devotees, admitting Muslims was against Islamic principles, calling it "Haram."

Addressing a press conference, Mankotia said district-level committees were being formed to begin protests. He also accused Omar Abdullah of not understanding Islam.

Responding strongly, the Chief Minister defended the admissions, stressing that they were based purely on merit through NEET exams, not religion. "If you don't want Muslims to study here, change the statute of the university," Omar said. He added that one Sikh student was also among those admitted.

Omar warned that denying admissions on religious grounds could push Muslim students toward minority institutions, leading to marginalisation and even radicalisation. He reminded that when the Assembly passed the bill to establish SMVDIME, it was meant to be an institution of excellence, not a minority college.

"Be warned, by isolating Muslims you are pushing them to the wall. If they get radicalised tomorrow, who will you blame?" Omar cautioned.

Odisha Targets $500-Billion Economy By 2036

BHUBANESWAR

Chief Minister Mohan Charan Majhi on Tuesday said Odisha must grow nearly fivefold in the next decade to achieve its ambitious target of becoming a $500-billion economy by 2036. Speaking at the inauguration of the two-day 'Samruddha Odisha 2036' Conclave organised by the Utkal Chamber of Commerce & Industry Limited (UCCIL), Majhi noted that the state's current economy stands at around $120 billion.

"To reach $500 billion, we need strong growth in infrastructure, industry, and skill development," Majhi said. He highlighted that projects worth Rs 2 lakh crore have already been invested, leading to 84 new industries and creating 1.64 lakh jobs.

The Chief Minister announced that Bhubaneswar is being developed into a mega tech city, with fintech and insurtech firms, major IT companies, and two semiconductor industries being set up. The Capital Region Ring Road project will also boost expansion of the Cuttack–Bhubaneswar twin city.

Majhi said the conclave aligns with the state's development roadmap, including Utkarsh Odisha, Make in Odisha, and Vision 2025. He stressed equal support for both large industries and MSMEs, offering policy incentives and smooth facilitation.

Listing upcoming investments, Majhi pointed to Indian Oil Corporation's Rs 80,000-crore petrochemical project and the Union government's Rs 50,000-crore shipbuilding approval. He added that Odisha is advancing in port-based industries, green energy, textiles, IT, chemicals, and petrochemicals.

"The state is creating the right ecosystem for advanced technologies. Odisha will soon emerge as a hub for study, innovation, and industry in eastern India," Majhi concluded.

DEVELOPMENT ISSUES PERSIST

Delhi Still Lacks Basic Civic Infrastructure Services

NEW DELHI

Delhi Chief Minister Rekha Gupta on Tuesday criticised previous governments for failing to deliver essential civic services in the national capital. She said that even today, many areas still do not have proper water and sewer lines. Water tankers remain the only main source in several colonies. She stated that after 15 years of Congress and 11 years of AAP rule, basic needs remain unmet for half of the population.

Gupta said that pipeline repair and desilting work have started after 27 years to tackle long pending water issues. She added that Delhi still depends on the 1973 master plan, and no updated system has been created in 50 years.

The Chief Minister also blamed legislators for not focusing on core needs. She said funds were often shown only on documents and not used properly. She insisted that proper planning would ensure enough funds for development works.

Gupta announced beautification work on stretches, including the Ghanta Ghar-Azadpur corridor. The project will include better footpaths, roofing and improved roads. She also said old colonies would be upgraded.

Criticising the previous government's Mohalla Clinics, Gupta called them more of an advertisement model lacking facilities. She said the newly launched Ayushman Mandirs provide diagnostics, medicines and healthcare under one roof. Over 1,200 such centres have been set up. She also highlighted Jan Aushadhi Kendras that offer medicines at cheaper rates. Gupta promised no shortage of funds for civic improvement.

RailTel Begins 10 MW Data Centre Project

New Delhi

Railway Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw has praised RailTel Corporation of India for starting work on a 10 MW data centre in Noida. The project is being developed in partnership with Techno Electric & Engineering Company Limited. The minister said the centre will support India's data localisation goals and improve national data security. RailTel stated that the upcoming Silver Jubilee Data Centre will spread over 17,000 sq metres in Noida Phase 2, a fast-growing digital and industrial area in Uttar Pradesh.

Farmers Protest Urea Shortage, Traffic Hit Hard

Ujjain

Farmers in Ujjain held a major protest on Tuesday over the shortage and delay in urea fertiliser supply. The protest took place on the Ujjain-Agar (Malwa) highway, blocking traffic for several hours. Farmers locked the Ujjain mandi gate and sat on a dharna, saying fair price centres were not giving enough fertiliser. They claimed tokens were issued to 300 farmers daily, but only 70 to 80 received urea. Police and officials assured proper supply, after which farmers ended the protest and traffic resumed.

SC Directs Petitioners To Child Rights Panels

New Delhi

The Supreme Court on Tuesday asked petitioners alleging sexual abuse in ISKCON-run schools to approach child rights authorities. A bench of Justices B.V. Nagarathna and R. Mahadevan said the petitioners can give their complaints to the National Commission for Protection of Child Rights. It added that state child rights commissions in Uttar Pradesh and West Bengal should also consider the issue quickly if approached. The court disposed of the petition while giving liberty to file fresh representations before the concerned commissions.

PM Modi to Launch Safran Facility, Skyroot Rocket

Government reforms, including GST changes in 2024, MRO Guidelines 2021, and the National Civil Aviation Policy 2016, have simplified operations

NEW DELHI

Prime Minister Narendra Modi will showcase India's growing strength in aviation and space this week by inaugurating Safran Aircraft Engine Services India (SAESI) facility and unveiling Skyroot's first orbital rocket.

On November 26, PM Modi will inaugurate the SAESI facility, Safran's dedicated Maintenance, Repair, and Overhaul (MRO) center for LEAP engines that power Airbus A320neo and Boeing 737 MAX aircraft. The Prime Minister's Office (PMO) described it as a major step toward Aatmanirbharta in aviation.

Spread across 45,000 square meters in GMR Aerospace and Industrial Park-SEZ, the Rs 1,300 crore facility is designed to service up to 300 engines annually. By 2035, it will employ over 1,000 skilled Indian technicians and engineers. The PMO said the facility will reduce foreign exchange outflows, create high-value jobs, and position India as a global aviation hub.

Government reforms, including GST changes in 2024, MRO Guidelines 2021, and the National Civil Aviation Policy 2016, have simplified operations for MRO providers, boosting sector growth.

On November 27, PM Modi will also unveil Skyroot's first orbital rocket, Vikram-I, and inaugurate its Infinity Campus via video conferencing. The campus, spread over 200,000 square feet, will design, develop, and test launch vehicles, with capacity to build one orbital rocket every month.

Skyroot, founded by IIT alumni and former ISRO scientists Pawan Chandana and Bharath Dhaka, earlier launched Vikram-S in 2022. The PMO said the rise of private space enterprises reflects India's success in reforms and its growing role as a global space power.

India, Afghanistan Strengthen Trade Ties During Minister's Visit

NEW DELHI

Afghan Minister of Industry and Commerce, Alhaj Nooruddin Azizi, visited India from November 19 to 25 with a trade delegation, according to the Ministry of External Affairs. The visit focused on boosting trade, connectivity, and economic cooperation between the two countries.

During his stay, Azizi met External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar. Both leaders discussed bilateral ties, connectivity projects, and people-to-people exchanges. Azizi also held delegation-level talks with Commerce and Industry Minister Piyush Goyal. The discussions covered trade facilitation, market access, and capacity-building. A key outcome was the announcement of an Air Freight Corridor connecting Kabul with Delhi and Amritsar, aimed at improving trade flows.

Both Ministers welcomed the reactivation of the Joint Working Group on Trade, Commerce, and Investment. They agreed to explore collaboration in mining and other high-value sectors. India and Afghanistan will also appoint Commercial Representatives at their embassies and establish a Joint Chamber of Commerce and Industry to institutionalize cooperation.

Azizi met Minister of State for Commerce and Industry Jitin Prasada and visited the India International Trade Fair (IITF 2025), where Afghan traders showcased products. He interacted with exhibitors and toured cultural displays at the fair.

Afghan Commerce Minister's India visit highlights trade, connectivity, and stronger bilateral cooperation

The Afghan delegation also held meetings with several Indian trade and export councils, including APEDA, TEXPROCIL, CCI, AEPC, MATEXIL, PHDCCI, ASSOCHAM, and PHARMEXCIL. Discussions focused on long-term supply of agricultural goods, medicines, and essential commodities to Afghanistan.

The visit reflects the commitment of both nations to deepen economic ties. India reaffirmed its readiness to work closely with Afghanistan to advance trade and investment partnerships that bring sustainable benefits to the people of both countries.

PMK to Decide Tamil Nadu Alliance on December 30

CHENNAI

The Pattali Makkal Katchi (PMK) will announce its election alliance on December 30, party founder Dr. S. Ramadoss said on Tuesday after a high-level meeting at Thailampuram Estate in Villupuram district.The meeting came amid internal tensions, with sections of administrators reportedly aligning separately with Dr. Ramadoss and party president Anbumani Ramadoss. Despite these divisions, the meeting saw full participation of the party's organizational machinery, including honorary president G.K. Mani, former president T. Thirumavalavan, general secretary Murali Shankar, MLA Arul, headquarters secretary Anbazhagan, and district-level leaders.Dr. Ramadoss chaired the discussions, focusing on two key issues: which party PMK should align with in the upcoming elections and which constituencies it should contest. PMK has previously been part of the NDA in the 2024 Lok Sabha elections and the 2021 state Assembly polls.After the meeting, Ramadoss announced that a General Committee meeting will be held on December 30 at Thalaivasal in Attur, Salem district, where the final alliance decision will be made. He also declared a statewide protest on December 12 against the Tamil Nadu government for failing to conduct a caste-based census, accusing the state of ignoring long-standing demands for updated caste data.With Lok Sabha elections approaching and alliances in Tamil Nadu still fluid, PMK's stance is being closely watched.

Indian, Moroccan Navies Strengthen Maritime Security Cooperation

NEW DELHI

The Indian Navy and the Royal Moroccan Navy held detailed discussions in New Delhi on Tuesday to strengthen their naval partnership. Both sides focused on structured training exchanges, improving information-sharing, and expanding cooperation in maritime security.

Rear Admiral Mohamed Tahin, Inspector of the Royal Moroccan Navy, is on an official visit to India. He was welcomed with a ceremonial Guard of Honour at South Block Lawns by Admiral Dinesh K Tripathi, Chief of the Naval Staff. The two officers later held talks on enhancing defence cooperation, which has steadily grown between the two nations.

This visit follows Defence Minister Rajnath Singh's trip to Morocco in September, highlighting continued high-level engagement. During his visit, Singh inaugurated Tata Advanced Systems Maroc's new manufacturing facility in Berrechid, calling it a milestone in global defence collaboration. He emphasized India's vision of "Make in India, Make with Friends, and Make for the World," showcasing India's readiness to partner with trusted allies in advanced defence technologies.

Singh also met Morocco's Defence Minister Abdeltif Loudiyi, where both leaders signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) on defence cooperation. The MoU provides a strong framework for collaboration in defence industry, joint exercises, military training, and capacity building.

The roadmap agreed upon includes cooperation in counter-terrorism, maritime security, cyber defence, peacekeeping, military medicine, and expert exchanges. Singh announced the opening of a new Defence Wing at the Indian Embassy in Rabat to give momentum to these initiatives.

Highlighting India's defence capabilities, Singh assured Morocco that Indian companies are well-positioned to meet its defence needs. The meeting marked a significant milestone, reflecting the growing convergence of strategic interests between India and Morocco.

PIB Warns Against Fake Defence Minister Letter Circulation

NEW DELHI

The Press Information Bureau's (PIB) Fact Check Unit has exposed a fake letter circulating widely on social media, falsely attributed to Defence Minister Rajnath Singh. The document, addressed to Air Chief Marshal Amar Preet Singh, claimed the Defence Minister had expressed concern over the public disclosure of a sensitive Indian Air Force (IAF) assessment.

Issuing an alert on its official social media handle, PIB Fact Check stated, "A letter is circulating on social media, allegedly issued by Union Defence Minister rajnathsingh to Air Chief Marshal A.P. Singh, concerning the public disclosure of a sensitive IAF assessment. Beware! This letter is fake!"

The PIB urged citizens not to share unverified documents, stressing that misinformation related to national security can have serious consequences. It advised the public to rely only on official Government of India sources for accurate updates and to forward suspicious documents to PIBFact-Check for verification.

The fake letter, dated November 22 and marked "Personal Confidential," appeared designed to create false impressions of discord within the defence establishment. Officials emphasized that such fabricated communications are dangerous, particularly when they involve the armed forces.

The government has repeatedly warned about rising misinformation campaigns targeting defence institutions. Earlier, PIB Fact Check flagged a viral AI-generated video of Army Chief General Upendra Dwivedi. The manipulated clip falsely claimed that 50% of non-caste Hindu soldiers would be removed from the Army by 2028. PIB clarified that the video originated from Pakistani propaganda accounts aiming to mislead citizens and erode trust in the armed forces.

Authorities reiterated their commitment to combating fake news through statutory and institutional mechanisms, urging citizens to remain vigilant and responsible online.

WHO Warns of Rising Technology-Facilitated Gender Violence

NEW DELHI

The World Health Organization (WHO) has raised concern over the growing pace of technology-facilitated violence against women and girls.Latest estimates show that lifetime intimate partner violence (IPV) in the South-East Asia Region is 31.5%, among the highest across WHO regions. Digital violence, including cyberstalking, image-based abuse, trolling, doxing, and online harassment, is increasing sharply. UN Women reports that between 16% and 58% of women globally have faced some form of online violence. Data from India, Sri Lanka, and Malaysia revealed a 168% rise in misogynistic online posts during COVID-19 lockdowns. A survey by UN Women and the Inter-Parliamentary Union found that 60% of women parliamentarians in Asia-Pacific have experienced online gender-based violence.

Catharina Boehme, Officer-in-Charge, WHO South-East Asia, said the health impacts are severe, including anxiety, depression, sleep disorders, post-traumatic stress, and harm to sexual and reproductive health. She stressed that these harms are real, preventable, and unacceptable. This year's 16 Days of Activism against Gender-Based Violence carries the theme "End Digital Violence against Women and Girls: Safe Spaces for All." WHO emphasized that online violence is real violence and that safety and dignity must extend to digital spaces.

WHO's 14th General Progamme of Work (2025-2028) prioritizes addressing inequity and gender inequalities. The "RESPECT Women" framework offers policymakers a roadmap to prevent violence.

Ethiopian Volcanic Ash Disrupts Flights Across Indian Skies

NEW DELHI

Air travel across India faced major disruption on Tuesday as volcanic ash from Ethiopia drifted into Indian airspace, forcing airlines to cancel and delay several international flights.

Between 1 am and 6 pm, seven international flights were cancelled and twelve others delayed as carriers adjusted schedules to ensure passenger safety. Both incoming and outgoing services were affected, with airlines revising operations based on meteorological warnings.

According to the India Meteorological Department (IMD), ash clouds from Ethiopia's Hayli Gubbi volcano are expected to clear Indian skies by 7:30 pm. The eruption, the first major activity in nearly 10,000 years, sent ash columns rising up to 14 km. The plume entered Gujarat on Monday, spreading overnight across Rajasthan, Maharashtra, Delhi-NCR, Haryana, and Punjab before shifting towards China.

The Toulouse Volcanic Ash Advisory Centre (VAAC) reported that the explosive phase began at 8:30 am GMT, generating a large ash plume that moved toward northern India. Strong winds carried the ash across the Red Sea to Yemen and Oman, eventually drifting over the Arabian Sea into western and northern India.

A haze settled over Delhi as the plume passed, worsening air quality to the "very poor" category and raising concerns among residents. IMD's Met Watch Offices in Mumbai, New Delhi, and Kolkata issued ICAO-standard SIGMET warnings, advising airports to avoid flagged airspace segments.

The Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA) circulated advisories to airlines, prompting IndiGo, Akasa Air, and KLM to revise schedules. Officials continue to monitor the plume's progression as operations gradually stabilize.

NCB Busts Marijuana Supply Chain in Jammu and Kashmir

SRINAGAR

The Narcotics Control Bureau (NCB) has dismantled a marijuana supply module in Jammu and Kashmir, arresting three people and seizing 2.730 kilograms of charas.

According to an official statement, the operation was carried out by the NCB Srinagar Zone in the Baramulla–Pulwama belt. Acting on specific intelligence, a team intercepted Bashir Ahmad Malla of Dhobiwan, Baramulla, on November 20 and recovered the contraband from his possession. Following interrogation and with the support of Baramulla Police, the NCB arrested his associate, Mansoor Ahmad Wani, also from Dhobiwan. Both were found to be actively involved in the supply chain. Based on their disclosures and further intelligence, the main supplier, Abdul Rashid Dar, was later apprehended from Pulwama, exposing the entire trafficking network. The statement noted that all three accused have previous criminal records under the Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances (NDPS) Act. With their arrest, the module responsible for procurement, transportation, and distribution of charas has been dismantled. The NCB praised the timely cooperation of Baramulla Police, which played a crucial role in the success of the operation and strengthened inter-agency coordination in the region. Investigations are ongoing to trace financial trails, backward and forward linkages, and possible inter-state connections. The establishment of the NCB office in Srinagar is part of the Government of India's broader strategy to enhance narcotics enforcement in Jammu and Kashmir.

DOG LICENSES MANDATORY

Madras HC Told Muzzles Not Mandatory for Pet Dogs

CHENNAI

The Greater Chennai Corporation (GCC) informed the Madras High Court on Tuesday that pet owners are not required to muzzle their dogs in public spaces. The civic body clarified that its earlier communication on muzzling was only advisory and not enforceable.

Appearing before Justice V. Lakshminarayanan, GCC counsel A. Arun Babu said no fines would be imposed on pet parents for not using muzzles. The clarification came during a petition filed by the NGO People for Cattle in India, which highlighted that certain breeds, like Bulldogs, cannot wear muzzles due to their facial structure.

The GCC stressed that leashing dogs in public remains mandatory for safety. Pet owners who allow dogs to roam without a leash will face a Rs 500 penalty. Updating the court on the city's pet licensing drive, the civic body said it had received 82,000 online applications, with 35,348 dogs vaccinated and certified. The deadline for licences has been extended to December 7, with flexibility for applicants.

On microchipping, GCC clarified it is a one-time requirement for identification, not an annual process. NGOs and animal welfare groups can register rescued animals and later transfer registrations to adoptive owners without extra charges.

The civic body assured there is no limit on the number of pets an individual may own. A recent portal glitch restricting users to four applications has been fixed. GCC also promised to correct the omission of Indian mongrels from the registration list.

After recording these submissions, the High Court closed the petition, noting the concerns had been addressed.

663 rape cases in 9 months: B'desh sees alarming spike

Dhaka

As the world observes the International Day for the Elimination of Violence Against Women on Tuesday, fresh figures highlight a troubling reality in Bangladesh, where 663 women were raped in the first nine months of 2025, local media reported. The United Nations General Assembly designated November 25 as the International Day for the Elimination of Violence against Women in the year 2000, to raise awareness about all forms of violence against women. The data, released by the Dhaka-based Human Rights Support Society (HRSS), underscored what rights activists warn is a growing crisis driven by impunity, deteriorating law and order.

Jaffar Express attacked again in Balochistan's Bolan Pass

Quetta

The Jaffar Express has once again been attacked in the Bolan Pass area of Pakistan's Balochistan, the local media reported on Tuesday. The train was reportedly attacked for the sixth time between Quetta and Sibi during the past one and a half months, Pakistan's leading daily Dawn reported. Railway officials said the Jaffar Express was travelling from Quetta to Peshawar on Monday when the armed men targetted the train. According to railway officials, armed men opened fire at the train when it reached near Aab-i-Gum. Security personnel, including Railway police travelling on the train, retaliated.

Soldier injured after gunmen target security forces

Islamabad

A soldier was injured after armed gunmen targetted Pakistani security forces vehicle on a link road in Domel town of Khyber Pakhtunkhwa's Bannu district, local media reported on Tuesday. A police personnel stated that the injured soldier was rushed to hospital in Bannu cantonment. He said that security forces and police started a joint search operation in the entire area and killed and injured several terrorists, Pakistan's leading daily Dawn reported. He stated that security personnel besieged the area to arrest the fleeing attackers.

India, Afghan boost trade links with new air freight corridors

India and Afghanistan have launched two new Kabul air corridors to revive trade ties and strengthen bilateral economic cooperation

KABUL

The Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) on Tuesday announced the launch of two dedicated air freight corridors connecting Kabul with Delhi and Amritsar, marking a significant step toward enhancing trade connectivity between India and Afghanistan. The initiative aims to revive long-standing commercial ties disrupted in recent years and offer Afghan exporters a reliable alternative to land routes that have faced frequent logistical challenges.

According to the MEA, both nations have also agreed to appoint Commercial Representatives in their respective embassies, a move expected to streamline communication and improve trade facilitation. Additionally, India and Afghanistan will establish a Joint Chamber of Commerce and Industry to further support business collaborations and resolve bottlenecks in bilateral trade.

The announcement follows a series of discussions between India's Commerce and Industry Minister Piyush Goyal and Afghanistan's Minister of Industry and Commerce Alhaj Nooruddin Azizi, who visited India from November 19 to 25. The talks focused on boosting agricultural and pharmaceutical trade, expanding market access, and exploring new opportunities in mining and other high-value sectors. The ministers also welcomed the revival of the Joint Working Group on Trade, Commerce and Investment, underlining their commitment to deepening cooperation.

During his visit, Azizi also met External Affairs Minister S. Jaishankar to discuss connectivity, trade expansion, and stronger people-to-people engagement. The MEA said the visit reflects the commitment of both countries to build sustainable economic linkages that benefit their citizens.

Azizi's delegation participated in the India International Trade Fair, where Afghan traders showcased a variety of products. The team also interacted with major Indian industry bodies, including APEDA, TEXPROCIL, the Cotton Corporation of India, AEPC, and the Manmade and Technical Textiles Export Promotion Council, signaling renewed enthusiasm for bilateral commercial partnerships.

CPN-UML moves to SC challenging House dissolution

KATHMANDU

Nepal's CPN-UML has petitioned the Supreme Court to restore the dissolved House while preparing for upcoming elections

The Communist Party of Nepal (Unified Marxist–Leninist), or CPN-UML, has filed a writ petition in the Supreme Court demanding reinstatement of the dissolved House of Representatives, even as it formally registered with the Election Commission for the upcoming parliamentary polls. The dual move reflects the party's strategy of legally challenging the government while simultaneously preparing for elections scheduled for March 5 next year.

Since being removed from power following the Gen-Z movement in early September, the party led by former Prime Minister K P Sharma Oli has repeatedly claimed that the dissolution of the Lower House was unconstitutional. On Tuesday, the party escalated its objections by moving the Supreme Court, arguing that both the House dissolution and the appointment of Prime Minister Karki violate constitutional provisions.

The writ petition, signed by former Chief Whip Mahesh Bartaula and whip Sunita Baral, contends that Prime Minister Karki's appointment is unconstitutional because she is neither a member of the House of Representatives nor eligible to hold executive office after previously serving as Chief Justice. According to the petitioners, this contradicts Articles 76 and 132(2) of Nepal's Constitution, rendering the dissolution of the House under her leadership invalid.

The petition also seeks to nullify President Ram Chandra Paudel's September 12 decision to dissolve the Lower House, urging the court to declare the period since September 9 void and restore the House to its previous status. This comes even as major political parties, including the Nepali Congress and the reconstituted Nepal Communist Party led by Pushpa Kamal Dahal, have accepted the electoral roadmap.

India and Vietnam to intensify collaboration

HANOI

India's Ambassador-designate Tshering Wangchuk Sherpa called on Vietnam's Politburo member and President of the Ho Chi Minh National Academy of Politics (HCMNAP) Nguyen Xuan Thang besides meeting other senior office bearers of HCMNAP in Hanoi, on Tuesday.

Ambassador Sherpa, a 2002 batch Indian Foreign Service officer, was appointed as the next Ambassador of India to Vietnam in September. He served as Joint Secretary in the Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) before his latest appointment.

Bridging ideas across domains between India and Vietnam. Ambassador-designate Tshering W Sherpa called on Politbureau Member and President of the Ho Chi Minh National Academy of Politics (HCMNAP) H. E. Mr. Nguyen Xuan Thang and met senior Office Bearers of HCMNAP in Hanoi, today. Both sides reaffirmed enhancing cooperation and intensifying collaboration in new areas such as critical & emerging technologies, the Embassy of India in Hanoi posted on X. With people-to-people links being the backbone of bilateral relations with Vietnam, the Embassy of India and the Indian community in Hanoi showcased the cuisine of Incredible India, traditional handicrafts and the magic of henna art at the International Culinary Cultural Festival in Hanoi, last week. Members of the Indian community also performed classical Indian dances at the festival.

Dozens of Afghan migrants and activists were forcibly detained during late-night police raids in Islamabad's Argentina Park

Afghan migrants detained in late-night police raids

ISLAMABAD

Several Afghan migrants, including women activists, were beaten and detained after Islamabad police carried out sudden late-night raids at Argentina Park, Afghan media reported on Tuesday. The operation, conducted without prior notice, sparked widespread concern among rights groups who fear escalating pressure on vulnerable Afghan families residing in Pakistan.

Reportedly, police surrounded the park at around 1:30 am, where nearly 200 Afghan families and activists had been camping for the past four months. Eyewitnesses told the outlet that officers used physical force to dismantle tents and load people—many of them women and children—into police vehicles. A video shared by migrants showed distressed families being taken away in the dark.

They came, gathered everyone, dismantled all tents and loaded us into vehicles. Some children are injured. We don't know where they're taking us, one migrant said in a recorded message. Another activist, with visible injuries on her eye and forehead, said she was beaten while trying to defend the rights of Afghan women. I am here for the rights of women, for human rights. Because I am Afghan. Because I am a woman, she said.

Reports indicate that police warned of forcibly relocating nearly 400 vulnerable Afghan families back to Afghanistan, raising alarm among humanitarian organisations. Activists fear these actions violate international norms on refugee protection, especially for women and children fleeing Taliban repression.

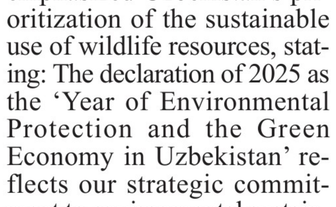
Rights advocates have urgently appealed to international organisations and global media to intervene, stressing that ignoring the situation means abandoning people whose only weapon is the cry for justice.

This incident follows growing complaints from Afghan refugees about intimidation by local authorities. Migrants have reported frequent searches, arbitrary arrests, and exploitation by police officers who, according to victims, take advantage of their precarious legal status for monetary gain.

Pak strikes in Afghanistan condemned by ex-US envoy

WASHINGTON

Former US Special Representative for Afghanistan Reconciliation Zalmay Khalilzad on Tuesday condemned the Pakistani attacks on Afghan territory, which killed 10 civilians, including nine children, and injured four others. His remarks came after the Afghan government confirmed that Pakistani forces on Tuesday midnight had struck a residential area in Khost province, killing 10 civilians, while separate air strikes in Kunar and Paktika provinces left four more injured. Taking to X, Khalilzad said, I condemn these attacks. My condolences to those who lost loved ones. The killing of civilians and risking a broader war is not the answer to the problems between Afghanistan and Pakistan. Patient and realistic diplomacy is a much better option. Citing reports, the former US envoy stated that a senior Turkish delegation is expected to visit Islamabad and possibly Kabul soon to facilitate an agreement between Afghanistan and Pakistan to prevent their territories from being used by groups or individuals to threaten the security of each other. The agreement could include the establishment of an operation or monitoring office, perhaps based in Ankara and staffed by officials from Turkey, Qatar, Afghanistan and Pakistan. This centre could not only monitor but also problem-solve when allegations or reports of violations are received. I applaud this initiative and call on both Afghanistan and Pakistan to cooperate with this initiative, he added.



Kabul condemns Pakistani airstrikes as sovereignty violation

KABUL

Kabul on Tuesday strongly condemned the Pakistani air strikes in the Afghan provinces of Paktika, Khost and Kunar, describing them as an infringement of the country's sovereignty and a violation of all internationally recognised norms. According to the Afghan government, at least ten civilians, including nine children, were killed after Pakistani forces struck a residential area in Khost, while separate air strikes in Kunar and Paktika injured four civilians.

Zabihullah Mujahid, spokesman for the caretaker Afghan government, took to his social media platform, stressing that a necessary response would be taken at a proper time.

The airstrikes carried out last night by Pakistani forces in Afghanistan's Paktika, Khost, and Kunar provinces constitute a direct assault on Afghanistan's sovereignty and a clear breach of internationally recognised norms and principles by the Pakistani authorities, Mujahid posted on X.

Delegates to decide on global wildlife trade rules: CITES

SAMARKAND

In a historic first for the Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Fauna and Flora (CITES), the 20th meeting of the Conference of the Parties to CITES (CITES CoP20), known as the World Wildlife Conference, officially opened in Uzbekistan, transforming the ancient Central Asian city into a centre of global conservation diplomacy. Hosted by the National Committee on Ecology and Climate Change of the Republic of Uzbekistan, the opening ceremony featured vibrant traditional Uzbek music and dance performances. The segment underscored its pride in hosting this landmark event, bringing to life the official slogan of the meeting, CITES at 50 in Samarkand: Bridging Nature and People.

In his opening remarks, Aziz Abdukhakimov, Advisor to the President of Uzbekistan, Chair of the National Committee on Ecology and Climate Change and CITES CoP20 President, emphasized Uzbekistan's prioritization of the sustainable use of wildlife resources, stating: The declaration of 2025 as the 'Year of Environmental Protection and the Green Economy in Uzbekistan' reflects our strategic commitment to environmental sustainability and to transitioning to a green, resource-efficient development model… Uzbekistan is confidently emerging as one of the leading countries in the region and globally.

India and Cyprus enhance collaboration in education

NICOSIA

India's High Commissioner to Cyprus, Manish, met Tonia Galati, Head of Business Development and Innovation at The Grammar School in Nicosia on Tuesday to discuss preparations for the High Commission's participation in the upcoming Grammar School Christmas Bazaar on December 7. The meeting also focused on exploring broader areas of collaboration between the High Commission and the school community.

According to a post shared by the High Commission of India in Cyprus on X, the two sides held detailed discussions on potential partnerships in innovation and technology in education, health awareness programmes, tourism promotion, cultural initiatives, and wellness-focused activities. These collaborative avenues, officials said, hold strong potential to deepen engagement with the Grammar School community. The High Commissioner appreciated the school's progressive outlook and expressed India's readiness to enhance cooperation in these fields.

Meanwhile, earlier in the day in New Delhi, Vice President C. P. Radhakrishnan met a visiting parliamentary delegation from Cyprus led by House of Representatives President Annita Demetriou. The meeting underscored the importance of strengthening parliamentary exchanges to enhance bilateral ties.

In a statement posted on X, the Vice President's Office noted that discussions highlighted the long-standing relationship between India and Cyprus and the shared commitment to further deepening the partnership through continued dialogue. The high-level interaction is part of a series of diplomatic engagements between the two nations.

On October 30, External Affairs Minister S. Jaishankar held talks with his Cypriot counterpart Constantinos Kombos in New Delhi, where the two reviewed the India-Cyprus Joint Action Plan 2025–2029. Their discussions also covered regional developments, the global geopolitical situation, and cooperation in multilateral forums. Jaishankar expressed confidence that India-EU relations would strengthen further as Cyprus prepares to assume the European Union Presidency in 2026.

Commercial vehicle, 2-wheeler sales surge in Oct on GST 2.0

New Delhi

Indian automobile industry witnessed a strong, demand-driven resurgence in October, with the commercial vehicle (CV) and two-wheeler segments posting robust growth in retail sales driven by the implementation of GST 2.0 reforms, which reduced tax rates, alongside strong festive sentiment and improved rural offtake, a report said on Tuesday. The CV sector demonstrated strong underlying demand, with retail volumes reporting a robust 17.7 per cent year-on-year (YoY) growth and a significant 49.5 per cent sequential growth in October 2025. Light Commercial Vehicles (LCVs) were the standout performers, with retail volumes growing 29.8 per cent year-on-year and 64.3 per cent sequentially.

Power demand growth likely to be around 2% for FY26

New Delhi

The electricity demand is set to grow 1.5–2 per cent in FY26 down from the earlier estimate of 4–4.5 per cent, due to early monsoon and high base effect, a report said on Tuesday. The forecast from the ratings agency ICRA also cited that India doubled its power capacity addition in H1 FY25 to 25.7 GW, led by renewables, and is on track for 45-50 GW this fiscal year. India's electricity demand fell by 3 per cent YoY in the first 10 days of November 2025, according to Power System Operation Corporation (POSOCO) data.

Sensex, Nifty slip as markets react to Nov F&O expiry

Mumbai

Indian stock markets ended in the red on Tuesday as traders reacted to the monthly expiry of Nifty futures and options contracts for the November series. The Sensex closed 313.7 points lower at 84,587.01, a decline of 0.37 per cent. The Nifty also slipped, ending 74.7 points or 0.29 per cent down at 25,884.8. On the Nifty options front for the upcoming weekly expiry on December 2, significant call buildup was recorded at the 26,000 and 26,200 strike levels, while on the put side, notable additions were seen at the 26,000 and 25,500, experts said.

New labour codes will benefit unorganised workers: Goyal

India's new Labour Codes promise major improvements for gig and unorganised workers, simplifying processes and boosting protections nationwide

NEW DELHI

The recently enacted Labour Codes will provide substantial benefits to unorganised and gig workers, Commerce and Industry Minister Piyush Goyal said on Tuesday. He noted that these workers previously had to navigate numerous forms, inspections and complex regulations, whereas the new framework simplifies procedures and ensures access to proper facilities, social security and improved working conditions. According to the minister, both employers and employees have welcomed the reforms.

Addressing the National Conference of Trade Leaders, Goyal highlighted a series of recent measures aimed at strengthening ease of doing business and enhancing worker welfare. He urged traders to promote Swadeshi products, emphasising that suppliers should clearly mention the manufacturing location on product packaging. He added that shops could also display that they sell Swadeshi goods to encourage greater visibility for 'Made in India' items.

Goyal further said that significant progress has been made in improving the business environment through the Jan Vishvas Bill, which streamlines procedures and reduces compliance requirements. Responding to suggestions on the concept of One Nation, One License, he proposed that states like Delhi and Maharashtra could pilot a single online portal integrating both state and municipal trade licences.

The new Labour Codes, he stressed, aim to foster industrial peace, boost productivity and support a balanced, growth-oriented work ecosystem. They promote fairness, equity and inclusivity in the labour market by ensuring uniform wage standards and providing broader social security coverage. Overall, the Codes enhance economic justice, encourage formalisation and uphold the dignity of labour.

Sanchar Saathi recovers 50K stolen phones in October

NEW DELHI

DoT's Sanchar Saathi platform recovered over 50,000 stolen phones in October, marking a major milestone in digital security

The Department of Telecommunications (DoT) announced on Tuesday that its digital safety initiative, Sanchar Saathi, enabled the recovery of more than 50,000 lost and stolen mobile phones across India in October this year. According to an official statement, the overall nationwide recovery has also crossed the 7-lakh mark, reflecting strong public trust in technology-driven governance.

Karnataka and Telangana have emerged as the top-performing states, each recording more than 1 lakh recoveries, followed closely by Maharashtra with over 80,000. The statement noted that monthly recoveries of lost and stolen devices surged by 47 per cent between June and October 2025, with more than one handset being recovered every minute across the country.

The achievement is powered by a robust, indigenously developed platform that integrates automated workflows with real-time device traceability. Sanchar Saathi prevents the misuse of blocked handsets by triggering alerts to both the registered user and the nearest police station whenever a SIM is inserted into a reported device, enabling swift recovery.

This progress is the outcome of seamless collaboration among state and UT police departments, the DoT's Digital Intelligence Unit (DIU) and its field formations (LSAs). Regular capacity-building efforts and partnerships with police forces have strengthened on-ground responsiveness and boosted operational efficiency.

The DoT has urged citizens to download the Sanchar Saathi app to report and block stolen devices, verify the authenticity of new or used phones before purchase, and report suspicious calls or messages. The app also allows users to cross-check trusted contact details of banks and financial institutions.

Goyal encouraged CAIT to organise a grand Swadeshi Mela, promoting indigenous enterprise and strengthening India's trade ecosystem

Goyal urges CAIT to host biggest-ever Swadeshi Mela in Delhi

NEW DELHI

Commerce and Industry Minister Piyush Goyal on Tuesday urged the Confederation of All India Traders (CAIT) to hold the biggest-ever Swdeshi Mela in the national capital in partnership with the India Trade Promotion Organisation (ITPO). He said the proposed mega fair should act as a global platform that showcases the strength, innovation and diversity of Indian trade and industry, aligning with Prime Minister Narendra Modi's vision of promoting indigenous enterprise worldwide.

Speaking at CAIT's national trade leaders conference, attended by more than 200 leading traders from 28 states, Goyal described India's traders as the backbone of the economy and one of its strongest growth pillars. He praised CAIT for its consistent initiatives and stressed the need for robust skill development programmes, greater opportunities for women entrepreneurs, improved systems to curb cyber fraud and the creation of a technology-driven, globally competitive trade environment.

Goyal further encouraged CAIT to collaborate with organisations such as Swadeshi Jagran Manch, Laghu Udyog Bharti and major trade associations to organise Swadeshi Melas across the country, building a nationwide vocal for local movement. He also offered CAIT the chance to take over the Skill Development Centre in his North Mumbai constituency to strengthen ongoing training initiatives.

Addressing the gathering, Chandni Chowk MP and CAIT secretary general Praveen Khandelwal praised the vital contribution of Indian traders. He said Prime Minister Narendra Modi's Ease of Doing Business push has empowered traders through improved systems, modern technology and new growth opportunities. CAIT national president B.C. Bhartia highlighted the need to fortify CAIT's organisational structure across India and empower traders at the grassroots. He outlined a future roadmap focused on capacity building, policy advocacy, digital enablement and nationwide campaigns supporting comprehensive trade reforms.

77% of firms show rising confidence in trade policies: Report

NEW DELHI

Indian businesses are increasingly confident and better prepared to navigate the complexities of global trade, with 77 per cent reporting greater certainty about trade policy impact on their operations compared to six months ago, a new report said on Tuesday. Around 80 per cent of Indian businesses anticipate a positive impact from recent trade policy changes in the next two years, the report from HSBC India said.

Further, the proportion of Indian businesses feeling informed and well-prepared to respond to changing trade regulations rose to 49 per cent from 44 per cent six months earlier, the report said.

Only 23 per cent of Indian firms expect trade uncertainty to hurt operations over the next two years, lower than the global average at 32 per cent.

With the easing of uncertainties around tariffs, Asian firms anticipate a reduced impact of supply-chain disruption on their revenue compared to six months ago, the report noted. Indian businesses continue to stand out for their resilience and optimism. The survey highlights that business leaders in India are more confident than their global peers, with many expecting trade policy changes to positively impact their growth. This confidence reflects India's strong position in an evolving global trade landscape, said Mohit Agarwal, Head of Global Trade Solutions, HSBC India.

India Inc likely to post 8–10 pc revenue growth in Q3 FY26

NEW DELHI

India Inc. will sustain a healthy year-on-year revenue growth of 8–10 per cent in Q3 FY2026, compared to 9.2 per cent in Q2, driven by firm rural demand and a revival in urban consumption, a report said on Tuesday.

The report from ratings agency ICRA said the agency projects operating profit margins to improve by 50–100 bps on a year-on-year basis, and expects credit metrics to edge up with interest coverage at 5.3–5.5 times against 5 times in Q2 FY26.

Domestic rural demand remains resilient and tailwinds like GST rate rationalisation, income tax relief announced during the Union Budget 2025, 100 bps interest rate cut by the Reserve Bank of India between February 2025 and November 2025 (leading to lower borrowing costs) and easing food inflation are expected to boost urban consumption, said Kinjal Shah, Senior Vice President & Co-Group Head – Corporate Ratings, ICRA Limited.

The ongoing geopolitical tensions and steep US tariffs continue to impact demand sentiments, especially for export-oriented sectors such as agro-chemicals, textiles, auto and auto components, seafoods, cut and polished diamonds, and IT services, Shah added.

ICRA's analysis of 2,966 companies revealed that Q2 revenue growth was led by retail, hotels, autos, capital goods and cement, though sequential growth was just 2.5 per cent due to seasonal slowdowns in demand in the oil & gas, airlines and power sector and deferment of purchases in the consumer durables and FMCG sector ahead of GST rate cuts.

Corporate India reported a YoY rise in OPM by 140 bps to 16.1 per cent in Q2 FY2026. The margin expansion in sectors like telecom, cement and oil & gas was led by improved demand and better realisations.

India's GCC faces talent poaching, rising salary pressures

NEW DELHI

India's Global Capability Centre (GCC) sector is entering a highly competitive phase as companies grapple with rising talent poaching, salary inflation, and high attrition, even as the country continues to offer one of the world's most cost-efficient operating environments. According to a new whitepaper by SPAG FINN Partners, India provides GCCs with nearly 40% lower operational costs compared to Europe, supported by fast-growing hubs in tier-2 and tier-3 cities such as Kochi, Coimbatore, Jaipur, Lucknow, Ahmedabad, and Chandigarh.

The report noted that India currently hosts over 1,700 GCCs and nearly 3,000 centres, generating $64.9 billion in revenue and employing around 1.9 million professionals. This figure is projected to climb to $100 billion by 2030. However, attrition levels remain high at 15–20%, especially in AI, machine learning, and digital transformation roles. About 60% of all recruitment now happens from other GCCs, intensifying internal competition.

Demand for specialised tech skills continues to soar, pushing salary premiums up by 30–50%. Despite these challenges, India retains a strong advantage with a vast pool of 5.4 million technology professionals and a youthful workforce, 65% of whom are below 35 years of age.

India's data centre revenue to hit ₹20,000 cr by FY28: Crisil

NEW DELHI

Revenue of India's data centre operators is expected to reach Rs 20,000 crore annually by fiscal 2028, translating to a robust annual growth of 20-22 per cent as both enterprises and retail consumers dial up usage of digital technologies and platforms, according to a report on Tuesday. To cater to the buoyant demand, capacity in the industry is expected to double to 2.3-2.5 gigawatt (GW) by March 2028. While capital expenditure (capex) is set to rise and will require sizeable debt funding, credit profiles should remain healthy as stable cash flows from operating capacities will keep leverage (Ebitda) in control, Crisil Ratings said in its report. According to the report, data centre operators making up 75-80 per cent of the operational capacity in India indicate as much.

The data centre industry growth will be driven by three factors: the rapid adoption of public cloud by enterprises amid ongoing digital transformation and technological advancements. Growing investments in artificial intelligence (AI) technologies, and proliferation of 5G technology, which drives demand for low-latency applications, such as video streaming, gaming, and internet of things-based devices, requiring data centre capacity in proximity to demand.

The healthy revenue growth of 20-22 per cent for data centre operators will emanate from robust industry capacity addition, which is expected to double by March 2028, said Anand Kulkarni, Director, Crisil Ratings.

BHIM INTRODUCES UPI CIRCLE FULL DELEGATION

NEW DELHI

NPCI BHIM Services Limited (NBSL), a subsidiary of the National Payments Corporation of India, on Tuesday launched a new feature called UPI Circle Full Delegation on the BHIM Payments App.

This feature allows users to authorise trusted people -- such as family members, children, staff, or dependents -- to make UPI payments directly from their account within a fixed monthly limit.

The aim is to make shared financial responsibilities easier while ensuring full control and transparency for the primary account holder. With Full Delegation, a primary user can permit a secondary user to make UPI payments without needing real-time approval every time. The primary user can set a monthly spending limit of up to Rs 15,000 and can choose a validity period of up to five years.

This makes everyday payments smoother for households and small businesses, especially when managing expenses for senior citizens, young adults, or digitally inexperienced users.

The feature also allows authorised users to make payments without linking their own bank account, making digital transactions more accessible. NBSL MD & CEO Lalitha Nataraj said that Full Delegation takes UPI Circle to the next level by enabling trusted and autonomous payments within defined limits.

She added that the feature reflects how Indian families and businesses work in real life, based on trust and accountability, and ensures that the BHIM App continues to offer simple, safe, and inclusive digital payment solutions.

This feature will be particularly useful for senior citizens who are often hesitant to use digital payments, as well as for parents who wish to give their children controlled spending access. Small business owners can also benefit by allowing staff to pay for daily operational expenses such as fuel or toll payments while maintaining clear oversight.

FM INDICATES INFLATION

Household net financial assets rise 6% in FY25: FM

MUMBAI

Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Tuesday said household net financial assets rose to ₹9.9 lakh crore, or 6 per cent of GDP, in FY25, up from 5.3 per cent in FY24. Citing RBI data, she noted that this marks a strong rebound from the steep decline in FY23, when savings had fallen to 4.9 per cent of GDP — the lowest level since the early 1970s.

At the same time, households' financial liabilities saw a sharp contraction. Liabilities dropped to ₹15.7 lakh crore in FY25, or 4.7 per cent of GDP, compared to ₹18.8 lakh crore (6.2 per cent of GDP) recorded a quarter earlier. The moderation aligns with overall credit growth slowing to 12 per cent in FY25 from 16 per cent in FY24, partly due to tighter rules for unsecured and retail lending.

RBI data shows that gold-backed loans continued to rise, reflecting a preference for quick, collateralised borrowing, though the pace appears to be stabilising under increased regulatory scrutiny. However, the most striking trend is the surge in equity investments. Market-linked instruments accounted for an all-time high of 15.1 per cent of household financial assets in FY25, up significantly from 8.7 per cent in FY24 and 7.3 per cent in FY23.

This rapid growth highlights rising household confidence in capital markets, fuelled by strong equity performance and prospects of higher returns. Meanwhile, the share of bank deposits declined to 35.2 per cent in FY25 as savers continued shifting away from low-yield traditional instruments in favour of more market-driven avenues.

Sushmita Bhat Joins Karavali Film With Strong New Role

The upcoming Kannada movie Karavali continues to attract attention with exciting new updates. After the recent announcement of actor Raj B. Shetty playing the lead role of Mahaveera, the film team has now welcomed rising actress Sushmita Bhat. She has already acted in two films, and Karavali will be her third big-screen project. Known for her active presence on social media through stylish photoshoots, Sushmita is now ready to impress audiences with her acting skills.

The makers have released the poster introducing her character. In the movie, Sushmita will be seen as a typical Mangaluru girl in a special role. When the team approached her, she accepted happily without hesitation.

Speaking about joining the film, Sushmita said that Raj B. Shetty was the main reason she said yes. There is so much to learn from him. Even though my shooting days were few, I learned a lot. He is always full of energy and active on the set. Working with him was a wonderful experience, she shared.

Karavali features a strong star cast including Prajwal Devaraj, Sampada, Raj B. Shetty, Mitra, Ramesh Indira, and Sridhar in powerful roles. The film is directed by Gurudatha Ganiga and produced under VK Film Association in association with Ganiga Films.

The story of Karavali focuses on the conflict between humans and animals and is set in a complete village background. Sachin Basrur has composed the music while Abhimanyu Sadanandan manages the cinematography. The team believes the film will offer a strong message along with entertainment.

Nadubettu Appanna Gains Praise At Prestigious Film Festivals

The semi-Tulu film Nadubettu Appanna, produced by Bhavishya Cinemas, is getting ready for release. Even before reaching theatres, the movie has received appreciation. It was screened for two days at the Kolkata International Film Festival and also at the Mysuru Dasara Film Festival, where viewers praised its message.

The film is directed by singer Anupama Sharadhi. With this movie, she joins the list of women directors in the Kannada film industry. She has earlier worked on government documentaries. The story is written by Kumar Eshwar, while Anupama has written the screenplay and dialogues along with directing and producing the film.

Nadubettu Appanna tells the story of Appanna, a miserly man living in a remote village called Dabbadka. The villagers often face elephant attacks on their farms and houses. The village does not have basic facilities like roads, hospitals, or schools. To reach the nearest town, they must travel on a raft, which has caused many deaths.

Appanna does not care about others, not even his own family. But when an elephant destroys his farm, he loses his wife and son. This tragedy changes him. He understands that saving money is useless if his home and farmland are unsafe. Regretting his selfish life, he donates his property to the government through a trust for the welfare of the village.

Nataraj Honnavalli plays the lead role. Sumathi, Nishanth, Jagannath, and others are in the cast. Cinematography is by Abhishek Anagalli and Dhanush Mysuru, and music is by Kumar Eshwar.

Parasakthi countdown begins, Sivakarthikeyan readies political drama

The countdown has officially begun for Sivakarthikeyan's landmark 25th film, Parasakthi. Dawn Pictures announced that the much-awaited political action-drama will release worldwide on January 14, 2026, setting the stage for one of the biggest Tamil cinema events of the year.

Directed by Sudha Kongara, Parasakthi marks her second collaboration with Sivakarthikeyan after the acclaimed Sarpatta Parambarai in 2021. The film's newly released poster has already created a buzz, showcasing Sivakarthikeyan, Ravi Mohan, Atharvaa, and newcomer Sreeleela in striking revolutionary attire. The visuals highlight the film's themes of protest, resistance, and social struggle, rooted in the historic 1965 Anti-Hindi agitations in Tamil Nadu.

Music by GV Prakash is expected to add emotional depth and intensity to the film's narrative. Produced by Aakash Bhaskaran under Dawn Pictures, Parasakthi also features a strong supporting cast including Dev Ramnath, Prithvi Rajan, Guru Somasundaram, Basil Joseph, Papri Ghosh, and Rana Daggubati. Together, the ensemble promises to deliver a gripping story that blends political history with personal drama.

The film is being positioned as more than just entertainment—it aims to capture the spirit of Tamil Nadu's cultural memory while offering audiences a mix of action, emotion, and historical relevance. With Sudha Kongara's proven storytelling and Sivakarthikeyan's growing stature as a versatile actor, expectations are soaring. As the 50-day countdown begins, fans are eagerly waiting to witness a cinematic spectacle that combines powerful performances, historical accuracy, and socially charged themes. Parasakthi is already shaping up to be one of the most anticipated Tamil releases of 2026.

Rakul Preet Singh warns fans of fake WhatsApp impersonator

Actress Rakul Preet Singh has issued a strong warning to her fans after discovering that an imposter is misusing her name and images on WhatsApp to deceive people. The actress revealed that the fake account has been contacting individuals using the number 8111067586, pretending to be her and engaging in misleading conversations.

On November 24, Rakul took to her verified X (formerly Twitter) account to alert her followers. Sharing a screenshot, she wrote, Hi guys... it's come to my notice that someone is impersonating on WhatsApp as me and chatting with people. Please notice this isn't my number and do not engage in any random conversations. Kindly block. She emphasized that interacting with such accounts could put fans at risk, especially if they are pressured to share personal or financial details.

Her quick response aims to stop the scam from spreading further and to protect her loyal fan base from exploitation. By posting through her official profile, Rakul demonstrated proactive steps to safeguard her community against identity theft.

Reports highlight that impersonation scams targeting celebrities have become increasingly common. Actresses Aditi Rao Hydari and Shriya Saran have previously faced similar situations, urging their fans to remain cautious when receiving unexpected messages.

Rakul, who continues to shine in Indian cinema with recent roles including De De Pyaar De 2, reminded her supporters of the importance of vigilance in today's digital age. She expressed gratitude to her fans and reinforced the need to stay alert to prevent online fraud and protect personal safety.

Be Dune Teen trailer highlights love, chaos, and parenting journey

The trailer of the upcoming Marathi original series Be Dune Teen has been released on social media, giving audiences a heartfelt look into the highs and lows of partnership and parenting. The show stars Kshitish Date, Pushkaraj Chirputkar, and Shivani Rangole in lead roles, and follows the story of Abhay and Neha, a young couple whose lives change dramatically when they discover they are expecting not one baby, but triplets.

The promo captures the emotional journey of the couple as they navigate love, responsibility, and the chaos of parenthood. Hema V.R., Business Head of Marathi ZEE5, said, At Marathi ZEE5 we take pride in creating stories that reflect the emotional heartbeat of Maharashtrian households. Be Dune Teen is a beautiful extension of that vision, showing how joy and chaos coexist in real-life relationships.

Directors Atharva Soundankar and Himanshu Pile explained that the series aims to feel both intimate and cinematic. Abhay and Neha's relationship is beautifully flawed. They argue, they make mistakes, but they love deeply and grow together. Told across multiple timelines, the story explores laughter, heartbreak, and reunion, while capturing humor in ordinary moments and tenderness in everyday chaos, they shared.

Kshitish Date, who plays Abhay, described the role as deeply relatable. Abhay is trying to balance love, fear, and excitement while suddenly becoming father to three babies. It creates chaos but also vulnerability. I believe every couple and family will see themselves in this journey, he said.

Scarlett Johansson joins Mike Flanagan's new Exorcist film

Hollywood star Scarlett Johansson is set to headline the next chapter of The Exorcist franchise, with writer-director Mike Flanagan confirming her casting. The announcement has sparked excitement among fans of the iconic horror series, which first terrified audiences in 1973.

Speaking about Johansson's involvement, Flanagan said, Scarlett is a brilliant actress whose captivating performances always feel grounded and real, from genre films to summer blockbusters, and I couldn't be happier to have her join this Exorcist film. The project is being produced by Blumhouse-Atomic Monster, Morgan Creek Entertainment, and Red Room Pictures.

Keerthy Suresh recalls lull, readies for Revolver Rita

Keerthy Suresh, one of the brightest stars in Indian cinema, has spoken about a surprising pause in her career after the huge success of Mahanati. The biopic, directed by Nag Ashwin, won her a National Award and praise from critics and audiences alike. Yet, despite the film's triumph, Keerthy revealed that she did not receive any new offers for nearly six months. Speaking at a recent press meet, she said, Would you believe me if I say that after Mahanati, I didn't get any films for almost six months? No one even came to narrate a script to me. The actress explained that she did not feel upset by the silence. Instead, she chose to see it as a positive break. I wasn't disappointed because I knew I hadn't done anything wrong. I thought people were taking time to create a strong role for me. I used that gap to work on a makeover, she added.

In Mahanati, Keerthy played the legendary actress Savitri, a role that cemented her place as one of the most promising talents in the industry. The film also featured Dulquer Salmaan, Samantha, and Vijay Deverakonda in key roles.

Now, Keerthy is preparing for her next big release, Revolver Rita, which will hit theatres this weekend.

IND vs SA, 2nd Test: India Reel at 27/2 Chasing 549 on Day 4

India face an uphill battle after losing two early wickets chasing 549

GUWAHATI

India ended Day 4 of the second Test in deep trouble at 27 for 2, staring at a massive target of 549 runs set by South Africa, who are eyeing a clean sweep in the two-match series. Openers Yashasvi Jaiswal (13) and KL Rahul (6) fell cheaply, leaving the hosts in disarray on a difficult surface. Jaiswal was dismissed in the seventh over by pacer Marco Jansen, while Rahul succumbed to off-spinner Simon Harmer in the 10th. At stumps, Sai Sudharsan (2 off 25) and night-watchman Kuldeep Yadav (4 off 22) were holding fort, with India still needing 522 runs to level the series.Earlier in the day, South Africa strengthened their grip through a composed batting display led by Tristan Stubbs, who missed a century by six runs, scoring a gritty 94 off 180 balls. Tony de Zorzi contributed 49, and the pair added 101 runs for the fourth wicket, blunting India's spin challenge. Stubbs also forged an 82-run stand with Wiaan Mulder (35) before the Proteas declared at 260/5.

For India, Ravindra Jadeja impressed with figures of 4/62, while Washington Sundar claimed 1/67, but the hosts were left with a mountain to climb.

With only one day remaining, South Africa remain firm favourites to clinch the series 2-0 while India's hopes now rest on a miracle.

India-Pakistan T20 World Cup Clash Set for Feb 15 in Colombo

MUMBAI

India and Pakistan will meet in a blockbuster ICC Men's T20 World Cup 2026 clash on February 15 in Colombo, according to the schedule released in Mumbai on Tuesday. The contest at the R Premadasa Stadium will be India's third group-stage match and marks the teams' first encounter since India swept their high-voltage Asia Cup trilogy earlier this year.

India begin title defence with high-voltage Pakistan clash scheduled early in tournament.

The 2026 edition, jointly hosted by India and Sri Lanka, will run from February 7 to March 8. India begin their title defence against the USA on the opening day in Mumbai, followed by a February 12 fixture against Namibia in Delhi. Their final group match will be against the Netherlands at Ahmedabad's Narendra Modi Stadium. India, Pakistan, the USA, Namibia, and the Netherlands form Group C. Three matches will be played each day during the group phase. As per the logistical arrangement between hosts, Pakistan will play all group-stage matches only in Colombo or Kandy. The tournament retains the 20-team structure introduced in 2024. The top two teams from each of the four groups will qualify for the Super Eight stage, where they will be divided into two groups of four. India's Super Eight fixtures, if they qualify, are slated for Ahmedabad, Chennai and Kolkata. Should India reach the semifinals, their knockout match will be held in Mumbai. The second semifinal will be hosted in Colombo or Kolkata, depending on whether Pakistan or Sri Lanka advance.

Vinicius Jr Halts Renewal amid Growing Rift with Xabi Alonso

MADRID

Real Madrid's long-term squad blueprint has been shaken after star winger Vinicius Junior reportedly told club president Florentino Perez that he will not renew his contract under current conditions, signalling a deepening rift with manager Xabi Alonso. The Athletic reported that Vinicius communicated his stance in a private meeting last month, making it clear that a contract extension is unlikely unless his situation under Alonso improves.

Vinicius's current deal runs until 2027 and carries a €1 billion release clause, and while Real Madrid have offered a renewal worth around €20 million net annually, negotiations have stalled. Sources close to the player insist the issue is not primarily financial but rooted in trust, playing time, and his role within Alonso's project.

The friction is believed to have started during the Club World Cup semi-final in July, when Alonso initially intended to bench Vinicius and later deployed him on the right wing, a position the Brazilian has long resisted. Since then, he has started only four of Madrid's last 17 matches and completed the full 90 minutes just five times.

The tension became unmistakable during the 2-1 El Clásico win over Barcelona on October 26. Despite being instrumental in the victory, Vinicius was substituted in the 71st minute and reacted angrily, heading straight to the tunnel.

Rohit Sharma Named Ambassador as Excitement Builds for 2026 T20 WC

NEW DELHI

In a significant announcement ahead of the 2026 ICC Men's T20 World Cup, former India captain Rohit Sharma has been appointed the official ambassador for the tournament.

Rohit, widely regarded as one of the finest T20I batters of his generation, retired from the format after guiding India to the 2024 World Cup title in the Americas, a victory that ended the team's 11-year drought for an ICC trophy.

Over the course of his illustrious T20I career, Rohit accumulated 4,231 runs, averaging 32.01 with an impressive strike rate of 140.89, cementing his status among cricket's elite. His association with the upcoming edition is expected to boost fan engagement and global interest. Adding to the buzz, the ICC confirmed that traditional rivals India and Pakistan will face off once again, having been drawn together in Group A.

They are joined by USA, Netherlands and Namibia, making it one of the most closely watched groups of the tournament.

With venues across India and Sri Lanka gearing up to host matches, the release of the full schedule has already ignited excitement among cricket enthusiasts, who eagerly await another thrilling chapter in the sport's shortest format.

World Athletics Continental Silver Level meet in 2026

KOLKATA

The Athletics Federation of India (AFI) on Tuesday unveiled a packed domestic calendar for 2026, highlighted by the World Athletics Continental Tour Silver Level meet, upgraded from the Bronze Level, and the inaugural National Indoor Championships.

The National Indoor Championships are scheduled for March 24 and 25, marking a significant step in expanding India's indoor athletics ecosystem. Later in the year, the upgraded Continental Tour Silver meet will be held in August at Bhubaneswar's Kalinga Stadium, a venue that continues to strengthen its reputation as a premier athletics hub.

Kalinga Stadium will also host the first-ever Indoor Open Combined Events and Pole Vault competition in May, providing more competitive opportunities for specialised athletes.

In a major developmental push, AFI announced a 16-part Indian Athletics Series, to be conducted from April to September, aimed at encouraging wider regional participation and spotting emerging talent.

Overall, the 2026 domestic athletics season will feature 40 competitions, designed to help Indian athletes refine their skills and build momentum ahead of the 2026 Asian Games.

Raina Defends Gambhir, Says Batters Must Take Responsibility for Losses

NEW DELHI

Former India batter Suresh Raina has thrown his weight behind head coach Gautam Gambhir amid mounting criticism over the team's poor performances in the ongoing Test series against South Africa. With India staring at a rare home series defeat, Raina insisted that the responsibility lies squarely with the batters, not the coach.

Gambhir has been under scrutiny since India's 30-run loss in the first Test at Eden Gardens, and pressure intensified after South Africa took firm control of the second Test in Guwahati. The visitors' dominance has placed India on the brink of their first home Test series defeat to the Proteas since 1999–2000.

Raina, speaking to journalist Abhishek Tripathi, defended Gambhir's methods. "A coach can only guide. The batsman has to score runs on the field. No fault of the coach," he said, stressing that international cricket demands tougher preparation from players. His comments came as India's batting lineup continued to falter, collapsing for 201 in their first innings while South Africa posted a commanding 489. Gambhir's tenure has been marked by mixed results. After a strong start with a 2–0 win over Bangladesh at home, India were swept 0–3 in New Zealand, then suffered a 1–3 defeat in Australia. Under new captain Shubman Gill, the team managed a 2–2 draw in England and a 2–0 home win against the West Indies.

Hardik Pandya Cleared for SMAT Return as Baroda Coach Confirms Availability

VADODARA

Indian all-rounder Hardik Pandya is poised to make his full return to competitive cricket in the upcoming Syed Mushtaq Ali Trophy (SMAT) after an extended injury layoff. The Baroda star, sidelined since sustaining a quadriceps injury during the Asia Cup 2025, has now been cleared to participate in most of Baroda's group-stage matches, according to head coach Mukund Parmar. Hardik's injury, suffered during India's final Super 4 match of the Asia Cup, kept him out of the final against Pakistan, the Australia tour, and the ongoing home series against South Africa. His rehabilitation at the BCCI Centre of Excellence saw a brief setback with a re-injury scare, but the 32-year-old has reportedly regained full fitness and is eager to return. Baroda will open their SMAT 2025 campaign against Bengal on November 26, marking Hardik's first appearance in the tournament since 2024, when he played under brother Krunal Pandya's leadership. Parmar confirmed that the team management is confident of his readiness and expects him to feature prominently in the early fixtures. Hardik's return is also seen as a crucial step toward reclaiming his spot in India's T20I squad for the upcoming South Africa series, beginning December 9. Selectors are expected to monitor his domestic performances closely, and reports suggest that he will be considered for national selection only after proving match fitness. He has already been rested from the ODI leg of the series as part of a cautious workload plan. Baroda's squad includes experienced names such as Krunal Pandya, Jitesh Sharma, and Vishnu Solanki, alongside rising talents like Shivalik Sharma and Raj Limbani, giving the team a balanced look for the T20 competition. As India prepares for a demanding cricket calendar, Hardik's successful return could provide the side with much-needed depth in the all-rounder department.

Benzema Brace Not Enough as Al-Ittihad Fall 4–2 to Al-Duhail

DOHA

Karim Benzema scored a late brace, but Al-Ittihad's struggles in the Asian Champions League Elite continued as the Saudi Pro League champions fell 4–2 to Qatar's Al-Duhail. The defeat marked Ittihad's third loss in five group-stage matches, further jeopardising their hopes of securing a place in the knockout round.

The revamped continental competition features 12 teams in the western zone, with only the top eight advancing. Al-Ittihad, twice champions of Asia, now face a steep climb after being overwhelmed for most of the match in Doha.

Algerian forward Adil Boulbina was the star for Al-Duhail, completing a commanding hat-trick that put his side firmly in control. He struck twice before halftime, capitalising on defensive lapses, and added his third just seven minutes into the second half. Polish striker Krzysztof Piątek deepened Ittihad's misery, making it 4–0 with a precise finish in the 74th minute.

Only then did Ittihad find momentum. Benzema, who has endured a mixed spell in Saudi Arabia, scored twice in the closing stages to give his side faint hope, but the deficit proved too large to overturn. The late rally was not enough to salvage points or mask the broader issues plaguing the Jeddah giants in continental competition. Elsewhere, Ittihad's city rivals Al-Ahli suffered a 1–0 defeat at home to the United Arab Emirates' Al-Sharjah. Ousmane Camara scored in the 81st minute, and although Al-Ahli believed they had equalised in stoppage time, Ziyad Al-Johani's effort was ruled out for offside.

Earlier in the day, Iran's Tractor strengthened their campaign with a 1–0 win over Nasaf Qarshi in Uzbekistan to climb to second in the group behind Al-Hilal. Al-Ahli Dubai also impressed, securing a 2–0 victory over Qatar's Al-Gharafa to keep their qualification hopes alive.

Srikkanth Slams Gambhir over 'Chop-and-Change' Selection

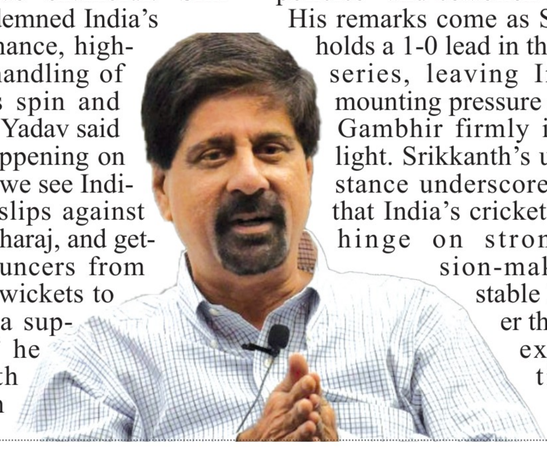
Srikkanth said India might draw but must fix selection issues and consistency

GUWAHATI

Former India captain and ex-BCCI chief selector Krishnamachari Srikkanth launched a scathing attack on head coach Gautam Gambhir over team selection after South Africa dominated the second Test in Guwahati. Srikkanth accused Gambhir of a "chop-and-change" approach, questioning the omission of consistent performers like Axar Patel.

"Why isn't Axar Patel playing? Was he unfit? Every alternate match someone is making a debut. They can call it trial and error. Gautam Gambhir can say whatever he wants — I don't care. I have been a former captain and former chairman of selectors. I know what I'm talking about," Srikkanth said.

This latest outburst follows previous criticism of Gambhir's selection of pacer Harshit Rana, which Gambhir dismissed as "shameful." Srikkanth also condemned India's overall performance, highlighting poor handling of South Africa's spin and pace. "Kuldeep Yadav said nothing was happening on the pitch. Then we see Indians edging to slips against Harmer and Maharaj, and getting out to bouncers from Jansen — five wickets to short balls on a supposed 'road,'" he said. Srikkanth praised Simon Harmer's classical spin, contrasting it with India's spinners who "fire it flat," and criticised captain Rishabh Pant's reckless shot selection. "They will say it's his natural game, but he is the captain. Shouldn't he see the match situation?" While acknowledging India could still fight for a draw, Srikkanth stressed that the team must address "wrong selection policies" and establish consistency.



His remarks come as South Africa holds a 1-0 lead in the two-match series, leaving India under mounting pressure and keeping Gambhir firmly in the spotlight. Srikkanth's unapologetic stance underscores his belief that India's cricketing fortunes hinge on stronger decision-making and a stable lineup, rather than continual experimentation at the top level.

India Set to Host 2030 Commonwealth Games in Ahmedabad

NEW DELHI

India is all set to formally receive the hosting rights for the 2030 Commonwealth Games at the Commonwealth Sport's General Assembly in Glasgow today. While the bid was largely assured over a month ago, the Assembly will officially confirm the decision, marking a milestone in India's ambition to become a global multi-sport hub. India last hosted the Games in 2010 in Delhi, but the 2030 edition will be staged in Ahmedabad, a city that has upgraded its sporting infrastructure at war footing over the last decade. Key venues include the Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel Sports Enclave, which will feature an aquatics centre, football stadium, indoor arenas, and an athletes' village for 3,000 participants. The Narendra Modi Cricket Stadium, with a capacity of over one lakh, will also host events.

Ahmedabad prepares for grand Commonwealth Games 2030 after major sports infrastructure upgrades

Ahmedabad has already showcased its organisational capabilities by hosting the Commonwealth Weightlifting Championships, Asian Aquatics Championships, AFC Under-17 Asian Cup Qualifiers, and will host the Asian Weightlifting Championship and Asia Para-Archery Cup next year. The city is also set to co-host the 2029 World Police and Fire Games alongside Gandhinagar and Ekta Nagar.

India's proposal highlights its commitment to a full medal programme, including wrestling, shooting, archery, kabaddi, and kho-kho, in contrast to the scaled-down 2026 Glasgow Games. Indian Olympic Association officials, including IOA President P. T. Usha and Joint Secretary Kunal, will represent the country during the formal announcement. Interim Commonwealth Sport President Dr. Donald Rukare described Ahmedabad's bid as "inspiring," while the global body praised India's sporting legacy and capacity to host a Games reflecting scale, diversity, and the Commonwealth values. The official announcement is expected around 6:30 p.m. IST.

India Preparing in Full Swing to Host 2036 Olympics: Mandaviya

JAIPUR

Union Youth Affairs and Sports Minister Mansukh Mandaviya said India is steadily advancing towards its vision of becoming a developed nation and is preparing comprehensively to host the Olympic Games in 2036. Speaking at the opening ceremony of the fifth Khelo India University Games at the Sawai Man Singh Stadium, he emphasised that a strong sports ecosystem has been built under the guidance of Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

Mandaviya said flagship initiatives such as the Khelo India School Games, Youth Games and University Games are designed to identify promising talent at the grassroots level. Selected athletes, he noted, are being trained at specialised sports schools and Centres of Excellence, helping create a pipeline of world-class competitors capable of representing India at the highest levels. Hosting the 2036 Olympics, he added, would propel Indian sports to new heights and further strengthen the nation's global sporting presence. Rajasthan Chief Minister Bhajanlal Sharma, who also addressed the ceremony, said the University Games are being conducted across seven divisions of the State, bringing together thousands of talented young athletes from across the country. He described the event not merely as a competition but as the starting point of many athletes' journey toward larger dreams, including participation in the Olympics. Highlighting the transformative power of sports, Sharma said it fosters discipline, perseverance and the courage to face challenges. Quoting Swami Vivekananda, he urged the youth to "arise, awake and move forward to conquer new heights." He affirmed that both the Centre and the State governments are committed to promoting sports and providing athletes with the necessary infrastructure and opportunities to excel.

Medvedev, Bopanna Lead India's World Tennis League Debut

BENGALURU

India is set to make a grand entry into the World Tennis League (WTL) as Bengaluru gears up to host the exhibition tournament from December 17-20, featuring some of the world's top tennis stars. The League unveiled the team compositions, highlighting a star-studded lineup including Daniil Medvedev, Rohan Bopanna, Denis Shapovalov, Elina Svitolina, Nick Kyrgios, Gael Monfils, and Paula Badosa. World No. 13 and 2021 US Open champion Daniil Medvedev will headline the Game Changers Falcons alongside India's doubles ace Rohan Bopanna, Magda Linette of Poland, and young Indian talent Sahaja Yamalapalli. Bopanna's inclusion is expected to boost local interest and provide homegrown flair to the event. Other teams include the VB Realty Hawks with Canada's Bhambri, Shapovalov, India's Yuki Maaya Rajeshwaran Revathi; the Ukraine's Svitolina, and Aussie Mavericks Kites featuring Nick Kyrgios, Dhakshineshwar Suresh, Marta Kostyuk, and India's Ankita Raina; and the AOS Eagles comprising Gael Monfils, Sumit Nagal, Paula Badosa, and Shrivalli Bhamidipaty.

Notably, 2022 Wimbledon champion Elina Rybakina, who recently won the WTA Finals in Riyadh, will not feature in the tournament, leaving Svitolina as Ukraine's representative.

The WTL aims to blend global tennis stars with emerging local talent, providing fans a unique competitive and entertaining format. Bengaluru's hosting of the event is part of India's increasing push to bring international tennis exhibitions to the country, while also offering Indian players the chance to test themselves against world-class opponents.

With top-ranked players in action and India's doubles specialists like Bopanna featuring prominently, the inaugural WTL event promises to be a spectacle that could mark a significant milestone in India's tennis calendar.

Fans can look forward to four days of high-octane tennis and international sporting flair in the city.

10-Man Everton Stuns Man United 1-0 at Old Trafford

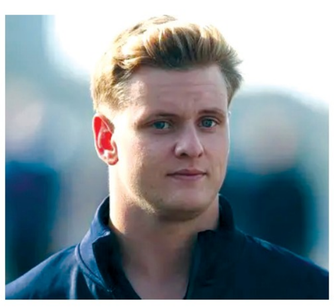
MANCHESTER

Everton produced a remarkable victory over Manchester United, winning 1-0 at Old Trafford despite being reduced to 10 men early in Premier League clash. The game will be remembered for Everton midfielder Idrissa Gueye's red card after striking teammate Michael Keane in the 13th minute, an incident confirmed by VAR as violent conduct.

The only goal of the match came in the 29th minute when Kiernan Dewsbury-Hall unleashed a superb 18-meter strike, giving the visitors an advantage that they would defend with grit and determination for the remainder of the game. Despite United's dominance in the second half, firing 25 shots at Jordan Pickford's goal, Everton's defence held firm, with the goalkeeper producing several crucial saves. United coach Ruben Amorim admitted that his side failed to match Everton's intensity. "They were the better team, with 11 players or 10," he said. The defeat marked United's first since losing 3-1 to Brentford almost two months ago and ended a 47-game unbeaten run at Old Trafford against visiting teams with fewer than 11 players. Dewsbury-Hall downplayed the Gueye incident, calling it "a moment of madness" and praised his team's response. "We could easily have crumbled, but it made us grow as a team," he said. Gueye publicly apologized to Keane, teammates, staff, and fans, taking full responsibility for his actions and vowing it would not happen again.

Mick Schumacher Joins IndyCar with Rahal Letterman Lanigan

BENGALURU



Mick Schumacher, son of seven-time Formula One champion Michael Schumacher, is set to race in the U.S. next year after signing with Rahal Letterman Lanigan Racing (RLL) for the 2026 IndyCar season. The 26-year-old German, who has spent the last two years competing with Alpine in the World Endurance Championship (WEC), will now tackle America's iconic ovals and road courses, including the Indianapolis 500.

Schumacher lost his F1 seat with Haas at the end of 2022 and has since built experience in endurance racing, giving him a diverse motorsport background. With six of IndyCar's 17 races held on ovals or super-speedways, RLL has already planned an oval test to help Schumacher adapt to the high-speed, banked circuits that are a hallmark of American open-wheel racing.

"Having both an F1 and endurance background, and having competed in various racing series over the years, I have insights and knowledge that I am sure will contribute to a great partnership," Schumacher said. "I was also immediately excited about the car and the American way of motorsport, which is more about pure and direct racing, and it is precisely this aspect that I am very much looking forward to."

RLL co-owner Bobby Rahal praised Schumacher's performance during a test on the Indianapolis road course. "He impressed every single team member. Everyone walked away from that event determined to do what we could to bring Mick into our program," Rahal said, highlighting Schumacher's adaptability and potential to make an impact in IndyCar.

The 2026 IndyCar season is scheduled to start on March 1, marking Schumacher's first full season in American open-wheel racing. His move adds a high-profile name to the series and brings added global attention to IndyCar, while also offering the German driver a new challenge in a competitive and fast-paced racing environment.

SPORTS FUTURE INDIA

Next Decade Will Belong to Indian Sports: Bindra

ARPORA, (GOA)

Olympic gold medallist Abhinav Bindra believes India is on a steady path to becoming a global sports hub and that the next decade will witness unprecedented growth in the sector. Speaking at the Chess World Cup in Arpora, Bindra said the country's ambition to host the 2036 Olympics is both timely and essential for long-term development.

"I think there is no doubt about it that the Olympic Games will come to India. It is only a matter of time," he said, stressing the importance of the current bid for the 2036 Games. Bindra noted that while multiple countries are vying to host the Olympics, India's effort is part of a broader journey to strengthen sports culture nationally.

The former shooter highlighted recent initiatives, including the sports governance bill, as signs of a more organised approach towards developing sports. "Even if we don't win the bid, sport must win and move forward," he said, emphasising that the bid itself should catalyse positive change.

Bindra is optimistic about India's youth and sees growing engagement in sports both as participants and spectators. He believes school-level opportunities are critical for nurturing talent and promoting healthy lifestyles. "When children get more chances to play, not just to become champions but to experience sport, values and healthier habits are instilled," he said.

According to Bindra, expanding access to sports at the grassroots will naturally increase participation at elite levels, ensuring a stronger pipeline of future athletes.

He concluded that with structured planning, increased investment, and a focus on broad-based participation, India's next decade can indeed be a transformative era for sports.
